Demand Comes After Day of Riots, Bloodshed in South Africa

Johannesburg—(AP)—The pan Africanist congress defiantly demanded today that South Africa's white government abolish its pass system for nonwhites or face a total Negro work boycott.

The militant Negro organization issued its demand as Negroes streamed back to work in Johannesburg after a 1-day boycott that exploded into rioting, arson and bloodshed.

The pan Africanists expressed regret at the outbreaks but blamed them on the government.

"We have said before and we repeat that there can be no peace in this country until the demands of the African (non-white) people are fully met,"

Byrnes Labels Old Age Bill 'Monstrosity'

Declares It Would Make More Problems Than It Would Solve

Washington—(AP)—Rep. John W. Byrnes, Green Bay, said today a bill that would help the elderly with medical problems is a "dangerous monstrosity."

Byrnes said the measure, by Rep. Aime J. Forand, D-RI, would create more problems than it would solve. The bill is being considered by the house ways and means committee of which Byrnes and Forand are members.

Specifically, Forand's proposal would provide hospitalization and surgical service to those over 65 who are covered by social security.

Major Defect

Byrnes said a major defect of the measure is that it would not affect an estimated four million persons over 65 who are not covered by social security.

Byrnes declined to predict what congress might do with the Forand bill. But he did say it likely would become a major campaign issue in this year's election.

Byrnes said it is clear that labor unions intend to make it an issue. He said three Democratic presidential candidates, Sens. John F. Kennedy of Massachusetts, Hubert H. Humphrey of Minnesota and Stuart Symington of Missouri, all endorsed the bill at a rally by the United Auto Workers in Detroit over the weekend.

Look for Solution

As a group, Byrnes said, the aged have their highest medical expenses at a time when their incomes have dropped to their lowest point.

"If we can prevent the colossal mistake of the Forand bill, we can then turn toward the task of devising a solution to the medical problems of the aged and others," Byrnes said.

Report U.S. Ready to Fire New Satellite

Washington—(AP)—An attempt to launch America's first big league weather satellite may be made any day now—at a time when the Russians are also voicing interest in employing satellites to help make long range weather forecasts.

The United States is reportedly set to try to loft a 270-pound meteorological satellite into a 400-500 mile orbit around the earth. It would be equipped with two television cameras to relay pictures back to earth of the cloud cover surrounding the planet.

The satellite to be launched by a Thor-Able rocket, will be called Tios 1.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration has said only that the launching attempt would be made during the 3-month period beginning April 1. There have been reliable reports that it might take place by the end of this month or in the first days of April.

Nikita Charges Revival Of Master Race Myth

Red Boss Says Vengeance Reborn in West Germany; Sees Signs of Hitler Theory

Reims, France—(AP)—Nikita S. Khrushchev charged today that the master race myth is reviving and vengeance is being reborn in West Germany.

Standing less than 100 miles from the West German border on the traditional invasion route from the east, the Soviet premier told a luncheon audience:

"I am disturbed by the words of (chancellor) Konrad Adenauer that Germany has the job of saving Europe."

"We cannot accept such a theory because we see in it a reestablishing of the Hitler theory that the Germans are a superior race and that the others are servants."

"We must not allow ourselves to fall in an action which will prevent the aggressor from attacking us a third time. Vengeance is being reborn in Germany."

Starts Mildly

He started off mildly, saying that he wanted to live in friendship with West Germany and had no wish to embroil France with her former foes. But he swung swiftly into the theme he had stressed harshly in Paris: There is a menacing rebirth of German militarism and it is up to the French and the Russians to join together to see it does not get out of hand.

Khrushchev's verbal explosion came after a morning tour of battlefields of World War I in the Verdun area, where nearly a half million Frenchmen died in fighting off the Germans in 1916.

"West Germany is trying by all possible means to prevent a peace treaty," he said angrily. "The reason is that they want to change the borders of Poland or Czechoslovakia. Ourselves and others will not allow it."

No Atomic Bombs

"We will do all we can to make this policy of West Germany understood by others so that it will not succeed. Peace must be gained by united, peaceful people who work for it."

"We must not let Germany have atomic bombs." The weather was gray and drizzly.

The visiting Soviet premier looked grim as he surveyed

Allied Leaders Satisfied With Joint Meeting

Ike, Macmillan to End Current Talks On Wednesday

Gettysburg, Pa.—(AP)—President Eisenhower and Prime Minister Harold Macmillan were officially described today as "very satisfied" with the progress of their Camp David meeting on nuclear test ban problems and other issues.

A joint statement reporting particularly on development of a joint position on nuclear tests was being written at midday for release in the afternoon (possibly by 4 p. m.)

Return Trip

White House Press Sec. James C. Hagerty said after announcing the statement that "it's safe to say that the two sides have blocked out a great section of an agreement" although discussions on precise wording were continuing at the Catocin mountain retreat.

Macmillan was to begin his return trip to London tomorrow.

He and Eisenhower agreed to remain tonight at Camp David to continue their private discussion of all sorts of issues facing the two great allied powers—including those to be discussed with Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev at the Paris summit session.

Early Start

It is expected that on all matters for summit negotiations or otherwise of direct interest to President Charles de Gaulle, the Paris government will be given a prompt report once the Camp David sessions are ended.

The president and prime minister plan to leave Camp David at 8:30 a.m. tomorrow and will reach the White House lawn by helicopter about 9:15 a.m.

Settlement Reached In Movieland Strike

Hollywood—(AP)—A settlement has been reached that should end the 4-week-old movie actors strike tomorrow or Thursday, it was reliably reported today.

A source close to negotiations between the Screen Actors Guild and the film producers confirmed the report in Daily Variety.

Vice President Richard Nixon is shown chatting with Mrs. H. E. McCormick of Lincoln, Neb., over a fence at the airport on Nixon's arrival. Mrs. McCormick was one of several hundred persons greeting the vice president, who flew to Lincoln from Washington with Mrs. Nixon to address a Nebraska Republican party "Founders Day" rally Monday night.

Nixon Promises Hard-Hitting Campaign; Cites Key Issues

'We Face Fight of Our Lives,' He Tells Nebraska Party Workers

Lincoln, Neb.—(AP)—Vice President Richard Nixon promises "a fighting, hard-hitting campaign" should he win the Republican presidential nomination.

"With Republican party strength in the congress at its lowest level since 1936, anyone who does not recognize that we are in for the fight of our lives must be smoking opium," he told some 8,000 persons at a party rally last night.

Laying out a campaign blueprint in a hard-hitting 38-minute address interrupted 18 times by applause, Nixon pledged to carry the GOP bid "into every state, city and town that limitations of time, space and physical endurance will permit."

Other Suggestions

He offered other campaign suggestions:

Criticize the Democratic record and defend the Republican record but do not resort to making, or answering, personal attacks. "That has been my policy in the past. It will continue to be in the future."

Don't make the mistake "of starting our campaign too early and have nothing left for the stretch."

Nixon made it clear he will

Man Sets Fire to Wife, Self, Home

Couple Burned, House Destroyed; Sleeping Mate Angers Husband

Post-Crescent News Service

Pickett—A rural Pickett man set fire to his wife, himself and his rented home late Monday afternoon, destroying the house and injuring his wife and himself.

Winnebago county authorities said John Klepp, 45, route 1, Pickett, became angry when he returned home and found his wife, Marge, in bed. She had taken sleeping pills, prescribed by a physician, the night before and had been in bed almost all day.

Mrs. Klepp told Sheriff

Charles L. Lowry her husband slapped their 10-year-old daughter, Wanda, and began smashing dishes. When she got up to protest, he threatened and then struck her. She said he told her she would have no further use for the dishes because he was going to burn the house down.

Got Gas From Car

The wife said her husband then got a can of gasoline from the car and poured it on her and around the kitchen. She told authorities he set fire to the gasoline and she ran from the kitchen, through the dining room and into a bedroom, from where she jumped head first through the window.

Klepp, who drove away after jumping out a window, later turned himself in at the sheriff's office and was taken to Mercy hospital, where he is being treated for first and second degree burns on the right side of his body.

Treated for Burns

Mrs. Klepp was treated for cuts and burns at a neighbor's home and then was taken to the house of a sister in Oshkosh.

Mr. and Mrs. Sam Kromm, route 1, Pickett, owners of the house, reported the fire at 6:22 p.m. Kromm said he

Man Suffocates Under Silage

Harold Timm, 34, Birnamwood, Dies At His Farm

A rural Birnamwood man was killed Monday morning when silage which had been frozen to the wall of a silo broke loose and fell on him.

Dead is Harold Edward Timm, 34, Birnamwood, who suffocated under the silage, according to Shawano county coroner Harvey Stubenvall.

Timm was found under the silage at about 12:30 p.m. by Mrs. Emil Knaack, whose husband owned the farm until Timm bought it recently. Timm apparently had been knocking the silage away from the wall with a fork.

Seek Action In Arms Talk

West Asks Nations To Get Down to Work on Specifics

Geneva—(AP)—The west demanded today that the 10-nation disarmament conference get down to work on specific measures and quit talking in generalities.

Despite the renewed western call for action, the conference dragged through another three hours without producing progress in disarmament treaty negotiations.

French Delegate Jules Moch voiced the demand for action on behalf of his U. S., British, Italian and Canadian colleagues.

Moch himself launched into a discussion of why the west considers a reliable control system vital to any treaty binding the powers of the world.

Moch said the world may never know how many atomic and hydrogen bombs are held in stock by the world's nuclear powers. No known scientific control method could ever disclose the exact number and location of existing nuclear stockpiles, he added.

For this reason, Moch said, the western powers refused Soviet demands for an outright ban on nuclear weapons, at least until a reliable inspection system has been established.

Time Running Out On Civil Rights Bill

Senate Judiciary Committee Meets Today for Additional Argument, Possible Voting

Washington — With time running out, the senate judiciary committee meets today for more argument and possibly some votes on the house-passed civil rights bill.

The senate, in sending the bill briefly to the group last Thursday, gave it until midnight tonight to complete its consideration of the politically explosive legislation.

The senate, which has had a short respite on other business after six weeks of civil rights debate, is expected to go back to that subject tomorrow with the house bill as the vehicle.

The key question to be decided today was whether the committee would vote some changes in the house measure or let it return to the floor untouched.

Endanger Chances

Many legislators interested in a civil rights bill have felt that any amendments to the house version in the senate might endanger its chances this session.

However, after more than six hours of closed-door quizzing of top justice department officials Monday, several judiciary committee members said they believed at least some technical changes in the bill were likely.

Any such change, no matter how small, would return the bill to the house, where southern opponents would have another chance to delay it.

Deputy Atty. Gen. Lawrence E. Walsh, who testified all afternoon Monday, was to return for more questioning this morning.

He was to be followed by a leading southern attorney, Charles J. Bloch of Macon, Ga., a special representative of Georgia Gov. Ernest Vandiver.

Chairman James O. Eastland (D-Miss) told representatives he expected some votes on amendments today but would offer no prediction on the outcome.

He said there was a big sheaf of amendments pending, some of them sent to him by senators not on the committee.

Sens. Thomas C. Hennings, Jr. (D-Mo), John A. Carroll (D-Colo) and Everett M. Dirksen (R-Ill) were among those reporting that several committee members found what they called technical flaws in the house bill.

Vernon Mack, Lawmaker, Dies Talking in House

Washington — Russell Vernon Mack (R-Wash), a congressman since 1947, collapsed and died in the house of representatives Monday. He was 68.

He had been talking on the floor of the house with Rep. Henry Aldous Dixon (R-Utah) and Rep. Thomas M. Pelly (R-Wash). "It's a nice day, isn't it?" Dixon remarked.

"Not for me," Mack replied. Pelly said he looked ill.

Then Mack fell to the floor, striking his head on a seat. Three house members who are medical doctors rushed to his side and carried him to a cloakroom. They were Reps. Thomas E. Morgan (D-Pa); Dale Alford (D-Ark) and Walter H. Judd (R-Minn).

Dr. George W. Calver, physician to congress, pronounced Mack dead of a coronary occlusion.

Rep. Pelly and Rep. Walt Horan (R-Wash) had had dinner with Mack the night before, and said he looked well then.

Mack's death leaves the house party makeup at 280 Democrats, 151 Republicans.

$305,907 Paid In 5 Years to Firm's Lawyer

Involved in Talks With FPC Members Last Fall

Washington — Lawyer Thomas G. Corcoran received $305,907 in five years from Tennessee Gas Transmission corporation for legal services and expenses, Federal Power commission records disclose.

Corcoran, known as "Tommy the Cork" in New Deal days, was a powerful figure in the administration of President Franklin D. Roosevelt.

It was learned last week that Corcoran talked privately with three of the five FPC members last fall while the commission was considering a proposal of a Tennessee subsidiary, Midwestern Gas Transmission company, to build a new pipeline to bring Canadian natural gas to Upper Michigan.

Acknowledge Talks

FPC Chairman Jerome Kuykendall and members Arthur S. Kline and William R. Connoles acknowledged private talks with Corcoran, but denied any impropriety. Commissioner Frederick Stueck said he did not talk to Corcoran. The fifth member, John B. Jussey, was ill at the time and has since died.

Corcoran's fees from Tennessee came to light because Tennessee had asked that he be included as operating expenses in calculating at least two rate increases proposed by the company.

A 1957 decision held that $60,444 paid to Corcoran in 1954 should not be passed on to consumers. A pending case involves $62,098 paid Corcoran in 1956. The FPC staff argues that it should be excluded.

An FPC spokesman said that during the 5-year period, ending in 1958, Corcoran was not listed as attorney of record for Tennessee or Midwestern in actions before the FPC.

The company's 1959 annual report was not available to show whether Corcoran received payments that year.

Corcoran has not been available for comment.

There are six vacancies. Mack was the 11th member of congress to die since the present session began in January 1959.

Case Company Rejects Bid

Plant Manager Says Picket Line Violates Statute

Racine — The J. I. Case company has rejected a request by the striking United Auto Workers Local 180 to resume contract negotiations to end a strike that has halted production at the farm machinery plants since March 9.

J. A. Nelson, general manager of the Clausen Works tractor plant, the largest of the company's operations, said late Monday that "the current climate is not conducive to a meeting with Local 180."

"When law and order is established," he said, "the company will be glad to meet with the union."

Union Seeks Talks

The union had asked the meeting.

Nelson contended that a picket line is stopping production workers from entering the plant, in violation of Wisconsin statutes. The union disputes the claim and says that its picketing is in compliance with the law.

Mrs. Daisy Weigl, wife of a Case production worker, was thwarted in her efforts to launch a "back to work" movement Monday in behalf of the wives of Case employees. She was heckled when she attempted to address a street gathering. Police asked the crowd to disperse and it did.

Freighter First Ship in Canal

St. Catharines, Ont. — The Gordon E. Leitch, an Upper Lakes Shipping company freighter, is the first ship to enter the Welland canal for the 1960 season.

Foot-thick ice in the harbor made half a dozen runs necessary before she was able to break a passage to the first lock Monday. The freighter was delayed four hours in the lock, until a bascule bridge was thawed out with steam hoses.

The Gordon E. Leitch is heading to the Port Weller dry docks for repairs and won't qualify for the Feasby-Topper, awarded to the skipper of the first ship clearing the first lock upbound for a be "required to make known through passage.

The canal officially opens Friday.

Two Brothers Admit Slaying of Farmer

Authorities Search Mississippi River For Men Killed After Drinking Bout

Viroqua — Authorities home on leave from military service, was staying with his brother and Howard's wife.

Drinking Since Noon

Officials said that Howard admitted killing Ostrem Sunday night after the trio had been drinking since noon. Asked for a reason, they have replied:

"I don't know. I don't know." Authorities quoted the brothers as saying Ostrem was shot to death with a pistol as the trio sat in Donald's car. The brothers said they drove to the County Highway P bridge over Coon creek and dumped the body into the water about a half mile above the junction with the Mississippi. The creek has been swollen by floods upriver. Dragging began Monday and continued today.

The brothers said that after disposing of the body they drove home in Donald's car. The car was recovered at Howard's home.

The search began when officers were notified by Ostrem's family that he had not returned home Sunday night. In their search, police were led to the Bolden brothers who made the admission under questioning.

Mother Pleads For Accused Son To Give Self Up

Manchester, N.H. — The mother of ex-convict William Murphy, 19, accused of killing an unarmed guard in an escape from Hillsboro county jail, today appealed to him to give himself up.

Murphy faces a charge of first degree murder for allegedly clubbing the guard to death with a cribbage board early Monday.

Norman Nathan, conducting an all-night music show on Boston radio station WHDH, said Murphy's mother telephoned the station early today with a message for her son, object of a wide-spread manhunt.

The gist of the message was: Come home, we'll get a lawyer for you and do everything we can.

Investigators thought Murphy may have made good his escape at least as far as Plymouth, Mass. An abandoned automobile was found there which was stolen a mile and a half from the jail in Manchester, shortly after Murphy fled.

Murphy was paroled last December after serving 11 months of a 1 to 3 year sentence for burglary and was waiting disposition of a car theft charge.

Mother, Children Die in House Fire

New York, N.Y. — A mother and two of her children died today in a fire that burned out their 4-room tenement apartment on the lower east side.

The father, bleeding and in shock, was found on the apartment stoop at 734 E. Ninth street, with a third child he had carried to safety.

The dead were Maria Lopez, 30; Yvonne, 8, and Dennis, 7 months. The mother's body was found in her bed and the children's bodies under it.

The father, Juan, 28, and his son, Milton, 7, were taken to Bellevue hospital, suffering from burns, cuts and shock.

Castro Says Cuban Government Not Tied By Rio Treaty Rules

Revolutionaries Did Not Sign, So No Obligation, Fidel Says

Havana — Fidel Castro served notice Monday night his government does not feel bound by the 13-year-old Rio pact calling for concerted action by the American republics against communism.

In another of his marathon television broadcasts, Castro implied remarks by Secretary of State Christian Herter in a radio-TV interview March 20 were a threat to label the Cuban government communist and thus bring into effect the terms of the Rio pact.

Repudiates Statement

"We do not feel ourselves obligated to the Rio treaty," Castro asserted, "because the revolutionary government did not sign it."

Castro thus repudiated previous statements he made here and in the United States last year that his government would abide by all international treaties entered into by previous Cuban governments.

Charging Herter said communist sympathizers held high posts in his government and that there was a hemisphere treaty for defense against communism, Castro declared:

"That is how they threaten to bring Latin American people against us . . . they are threatening to form a coalition against us."

"A drunkard thinks one way and a bartender another way," he added.

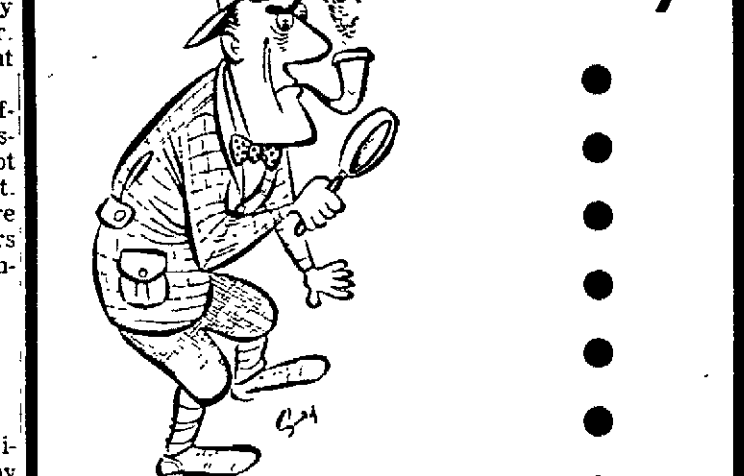

In his interview Herter said there were communist sympathizers high in the Cuban government, but he did not think it correct to call Cuba communist "at the present time." Castro's government replied in a note to the United States Friday that Herter's statements were "inexact and confusing."

At no point in his 4-hour speech did Castro deny the reference to communist sympathizers in his government. He did say: "I know of no communist who has told me he is not in accord with agrarian reform or revolutionary laws. If they are in agreement, what is there to do? That isn't my fault."

In an address prepared for the White House Conference on Children and Youth, Mrs. Grant said, "Children's programs, with few exceptions, are at worst stupid and offensive; at best inane and artless . . . what we need are more (good) programs and none of those spawned by people whose polluted hallucinations make one think they must consciously or unconsciously hate children."

CHIROPRACTIC RESEARCH

A careful compilation and examination of 99,976 actual cases of sickness handled by Chiropractors indicated three obvious conclusions as to the value of spinal therapy in regaining health.

First: that there is a definite relationship between faulty posture in the back and normal distribution of spinal nerve force.

Second: that correction of faulty back posture does something which causes a beneficial change in a diseased condition.

Third: that the diseases and conditions showing decided improvement or complete elimination were not confined to any limited category.

This survey by the Chiropractic Research Bureau establishes beyond contradiction that the segments of the spinal column are out of normal alignment in more than 89% of the cases where disease is discovered in the functions or organs of the body. Correction of faulty position of the segments showed evidence of arrested progress in the disease.

Study Underway

'Safer' Cigarets May Already be on Market

Louisville, Ky. — "Safer" cigarettes may already be on the market, and a cancer researcher says he hopes to learn if they really are safer.

These safer smokes may be those containing only one-fourth the nicotine and one-half the tar content of standard non-filter cigarettes, said Dr. E. Cuyler Hammond, director of statistical research for the American Cancer society (ACS).

A vast, 6-year study of more than one million Americans now under way by the ACS, examining many health factors and habits may show whether those who switched to the "safer" cigarettes actually live longer. Dr. Hammond told a seminar for science writers.

Dr. Hammond is one who is convinced cigaret smoking is "the principal cause" of lung cancer now.

Finances Research

The tobacco industry, which has put up millions to finance research, contends there is no scientific proof of a connection between smoking and lung cancer.

Despite all recent warnings, cigaret sales are at a new high, but perhaps the warning hasn't fallen on deaf ears because sales of filter-tipped and low-tar, low-nicotine cigarettes have increased tremendously.

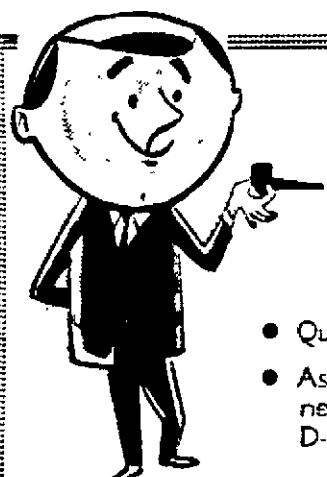

Dr. Hammond said "It appears the majority of Americans want to smoke, but they want to do so without running the risk of lung cancer or any of the other diseases associated with cigaret smoking."

Safer cigarettes would at least reduce the dangers he's worried about, scientists said.

Dr. Hammond declared cigaret manufacturers should the first lock upbound for a be "required to make known through passage.

The tar and nicotine content of their brand."

Man Must Find Strength in Means of Grace

Prayer, Worship, Study of Bible Needed, Pastor Says

The means of grace — the methods, techniques and disciplines of the Christian religion — must be used diligently to give man the strength he needs to live up to his ideals, the Rev. Clifford J. Pierson, pastor of Memorial Presbyterian church, told his congregation Sunday.

The pastor said too often liberal religion has tried to make Christian doctrines and theories intellectually acceptable and has failed to make God real and spiritual power accessible.

The Rev. Mr. Pierson said when Dr. Harry Emerson Fosdick tried to determine why men of various religious faiths and even agnostics seemed to live on a high spiritual plane, he found a disturbing fact.

Need Methods
"Dr. Fosdick was forced to conclude that successful Christian living depends more upon practical methods and techniques—whereby the spiritual life can be renewed—than upon theories whereby religion can be explained."

Must Be Diligent
"Upon uniting with the church we vowed to make diligent use of the means of grace... the methods whereby God becomes known and real, the techniques whereby our souls are nurtured and strengthened and the disciplines whereby Christian character is created," the pastor explained.

The pastor said studies have shown that all great saints of all religions have found their sources of guidance in religious habits.

Private Worship
"True worship seeks no rewards, but in worship the soul draws near to God and God makes himself known and felt..." The benefits of worship, he said, are found nowhere else.

The Rev. Mr. Pierson stressed the importance of private worship away from "the unrelieved din and confusion of the world" to grow a soul sensitive to God.

Prayer
"We address our petitions and pleas to one whose existence we question and whose voice we do not expect to hear," he said.

When a Christian's faith falters, he should ask himself if he is making diligent use of the means of grace.

"When we grow careless in our thought about God; when we fail to feed our souls from scripture and sacrament; when the will to worship becomes diverted or perverted and when the times of silence and prayer grow further and further apart... power goes out of our lives."

"Having dropped the means of grace we awaken to find that grace itself is gone," he concluded.

Death Sentences of Eight Former Iraqi Officials Commuted
Baghdad, Iraq — In a clemency move that may bring communist repercussions, Iraqi Premier Karim has commuted the death sentences against eight former officials who were condemned Nov. 10, 1958, under the monarchy. Karim reduced to 10 years the sentence against Jamali, who as foreign minister was prominent at the United Nations and well liked in western circles. His wife is the former Sara Heyden Powell of Minnesota. The Iraqi people's court sessions, Iraqi Premier Karim had passed the death sentences in the tense months after the July 1958 revolution which toppled the monarchy. Jamali was condemned Nov. 10, 1958, on charges of endangering Iraq and world peace with his activity under the monarchy.

last night's rioting, which centered around the Johannesburg area.

Police reported that the district where 350,000 Negroes live outside Johannesburg was almost back to normal. This was the scene of the first demonstrations against the passbooks all non-whites had to carry until the government yielded and suspended them temporarily.

Work Boycott

The work boycott was called by Negro leaders to mourn the death of 72 Negroes killed a week ago in demonstrations against the passes.

Negro fought Negro when some insisted on going to work in defiance of the boycott and militant members of their own race set upon them and beat them.

Throughout last night's rioting, South African police hardly fired a shot. Police said a few volleys were fired into the air to warn threatening crowds.

At least three persons including a white policeman were killed in the violence and arson around Johannesburg and Cape Town. Eight Negro police were missing.

Police blamed some of the trouble on supporters of the pan Africanist congress.

These supporters apparently were the main targets of the police manhunt. Other leaders sought were not identified. Pan Africanist leaders had warned that they could not insure the safety of Negroes who insisted on working.

Khrushchev to Austria

Vienna —(AP)—The Austrian government announced today that Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev will visit Vienna, probably in September. Austrian Chancellor Julius Raab first invited him in 1958, when Raab headed an Austrian government delegation to Moscow.

not run on the Eisenhower record alone but on the basis of an expanded program of his own.

"A record is something to build on, not to stand on," he said.

"Stand - pat, hold-the-line thinking is not enough to meet the great challenges confronting the American people at home and abroad."

Farm Problem

Nixon identified the farm problem as one of the party's "most difficult issues" and challenged the Democratic-controlled congress "to fish or cut bait on this problem."

"If they (Democratic leaders) fail to act or act irresponsibly during this session of congress, they will have made it clear that they prefer a farm issue to a farm solution." It will then, he said, be the responsibility of the presidential candidates to frame new farm programs from which voters can choose.

Nixon was nudged into the world spotlight today by President Eisenhower, who wants Nixon to succeed him in the White House.

At the same time, an aide made it clear that Eisenhower has no thought of focusing similar attention on Nixon's Democratic opponents for the presidency.

iron mining belt, 36 miles east of Verdun. In heavy fog, the jet made a radar-guided landing. Khrushchev drove by car to Verdun.

A visit to the famed Reims cathedral, a tour of a champagne cave at Epernay and an official dinner in Lille rounded out Khrushchev's day.

Three Men Die In Two Crashes

Milwaukee —(AP)— Three deaths in two accidents in the northwestern section of Wisconsin have raised Wisconsin's highway death toll for the year to 149, compared with 144 on this date last year.

Harold A. Masters, of Benton Harbor, Mich., was killed last midnight when his auto struck a guard rail and overturned on Interstate 94, seven miles east of Hudson in St. Croix county. Masters, who was alone, was en route to Minneapolis for the funeral of a brother whose name was not available.

Morris O. Lunke, 78, route 1, Menomonie, and Albert Larson, 79, route 6, Menomonie, were killed Monday when the car Lunke was driving was struck by a Chicago and North Western railway passenger train at a crossing in Dunn county.

Madison Firm Will Build $2½ Million Dormitory for Coeds

Lowell associates said Monday the 7-floor structure would be located at the corner of Langdon and N. Frances streets, near the university campus. Facilities will include an indoor swimming pool, parlors on each floor and dining quarters.

The building is expected to be completed by June 1, 1961.

Census Taking Is Under Way

The 18th decennial census on population and housing gets under way this month with the arrival at each dwelling in the United States of a form to be filled out by the householder. The forms contain 40 questions although not every question must be answered by every householder. The forms are to be filled out and held in readiness to be picked up by the census enumerators beginning April 1. When the enumerators make their calls they will leave at one out of four households a second questionnaire containing 61 additional questions to be filled out by the householders and mailed to the local U. S. census office.

The Census Bureau warns that these latter questions have been carefully screened, that the answers are confidential and that a person may be fined and imprisoned for failing wilfully to answer or for falsely answering census questions. There will be other questions for the householders to answer when the enumerators call. These questions are summarized in a report by Congressional Quarterly as follows:

Address; name; relationship to head of household; sex, race, month and year of birth; marital status; whether residence is on farm; place of birth; if born outside U. S.; language spoken in home before coming to the United States; country of birth of parents; length of residence at present address; where resided five years earlier; educational attainments; school or college attended and whether public or private school; times married and date of first marriage; of women ever married, how many children ever born; employment status; hours worked in week preceding enumeration; date last worked; occupation, industry, class of worker; place of work; means of transportation to work; weeks worked in 1959; earnings in 1959; other income in 1959; veterans status—which war and present service.

The census has been taken every 10 years by the United States government since 1790. It began as a mere count of people and has been expanded to include a great deal more information every decade. The information gathered by the census is of vital importance to federal and state and local governments, to business and labor, to schools, colleges, newspapers and others engaged in disseminating information. Robert W. Burgess, director of the census, points out that the information is so valuable to so many individuals and organizations that the bureau received some surprising requests for new questions to be added. Some that were submitted for inclusion in the 1960 census and rejected were "Did you vote in the last state election? If not, why not? Have you ever been arrested? If so, what for? What is your favorite girl's name? Do you have a pet?"

Belling All the Cats

French leaders are extremely nervous these days. As Premier Khrushchev visits President De Gaulle and wanders along the streets of Paris, the police are expecting any moment that someone will take a shot at him. They have good cause to be alarmed.

France always has been a place of refuge for the expatriates of every nation except during the days of German occupation. White Russians, fleeing from the Bolsheviks, moved to France in large numbers some 40 years ago. They've been joined by the refugees of Eastern Europe since the end of World War II. The land-holders of Poland, democrats of Czechoslovakia, radicals of Hungary whose interpretations of government differed with the Kremlin, the disillusioned and the dissatisfied, have come to France. And there are many among them with memories and grievances and

We Turn the Corner

March is undoubtedly the rawest, marrow-chillingest, cheek-scrapingest, bitterest month of all. Not even November, descending like grey fog after the calm orange days of October, can equal March's tempestuous, petulant violence. March is wonderful for the complexion and circulation and very bad indeed for the disposition and heating system. It offers a gentle warm smile and then turns into an icy blast all the more bone freezing because of the contrast.

And yet we are inclined to go along with William Cullen Bryant:

Ah, passing few are they who speak
Wild stormy month: in praise of thee;

What Others are Saying
$550 Million High Price
For Harvest of Insanity

From The Wall Street Journal

Would you care to know how much it costs the taxpayers every day for storage of commodities Uncle Sam has on hand because of the farm program's high price supports?

Let's ease into this with two low ones; honey and tobacco. Uncle Sam pays out only $131 a day for honey and only $238 a day for tobacco, which, if it indicates Anything those questions were rejected by the census there may be others that will appear just as incomprehensible to many who will answer them. But the fact is there is such a great variety of uses for this material and it is so vitally important to those using it, including representatives of the government itself, that Congress has made it a duty under penalty of fine or imprisonment to answer the questions.

Nevertheless, many will complain about the inconvenience of answering such questions. In fact, businessmen who make great use of census information are among those complaining. There have been so many complaints that Rep. Clarence J. Brown (R-Ohio) has asked for a Congressional investigation of the operation of taking the census of business, manufacturers and the minerals industry to see if it isn't possible to simplify and eliminate most of the paper work.

However, Census Director Burgess says that a check into these complaints indicates that many businessmen exaggerate when they want to make a case for their claim that they are being abused by government. A preliminary report by a Congressional subcommittee has come up with much the same answer. Nevertheless it has recommended that Government agencies seeking information should be required to estimate the cost to private industry in man hours or dollars of answering the questions.

It is likely that people will be bothered more rather than less by census questions in the future. A house committee plans to consider a bill this year providing for a 5-year population unemployment and housing census. The sponsor of the bill, Rep. Stewart L. Udall (D-Ariz.) says that "continuing important and rapid shifts in population" make 10-year census figures outdated long before another census can be taken.

The budget bureau and the commerce department both have said that close study should be given to the need for more up-to-date population data. The director of the census agrees that a 5-year census population could be very valuable. Furthermore, there is the demand for such information outside of government. In fact, 1,516 communities had special population censuses taken at their own expense during the past 10 years. Some of them were interested in obtaining the higher proportion of state funds to which they were entitled by their increased population. Garden Grove, Calif., which was an unincorporated community of about 3,900 in 1950 found in 1959 its population had jumped to 68,866. It is quite likely the census man will be back every five years in the future, rather than every 10 as at present.

hatreds and who easily would give up their own lives for the loss of Khrushchev's.

Before the Russian premier's visit, the French police rounded up thousands and shipped them to Corsica to wait out the tour. Relatives of those in communist prisons, schoolfellows of anarchists, nieces of Hungarian freedom fighters, were all sent away. As one bitterly remarked, they took away all the anti-communists to make room for the reds themselves.

Khrushchev, who violently objected to not being allowed to visit Disneyland because of lack of security arrangements, hasn't made a peep about the extensive French guarantees of his life. But perhaps he is well aware that the history of assassinations has shown that it is always the unsuspected, the quietly brooding, the nut with no record at all, who pulls the trigger or wields the knife. And how the refugees on Corsica would chuckle if that should happen!

Yet though thy winds are loud and bleak,
Thou art a welcome month to me.
For thou, to northern lands, again
The glad and glorious sun doth bring.

There is the sun in the late afternoon, casting long shadows but still above the horizon like a red balloon at supper time. There are red noses and freckles brought out again at mid-day. The snow looks whiter, the sky as blue as September, the evenings longer. And to those who get up in the early hours, there is the relief of sunlight streaming through the windows instead of the damp darkness of the pre-dawn.

It may not feel like spring, but it's beginning to look like it.

ley, $64,000 a day and cotton $76,000 a day.

But even these are peanuts compared to the big boys. Have a good look:

Grain sorghums cost $262,000 a day for storage.

Corn costs $444,000 a day for storage.

And wheat costs $579,000 a day for storage.

That's every day. None of these costs include what was paid by the taxpayers, through their agent, Uncle Sam, for the stuff. It's just storage costs.

Total cost of storage for all these commodities comes to $1,547,000 a day or better than $550,000,000 a year — and that, in anybody's book, is a lot to pay for storing our harvests of insanity.

First Home Wired for Electricity
Should Become Appleton Museum

Editor, Post-Crescent:

Why do so many people want to visit foreign places? Perhaps my experience as an early promoter of group travel may have disclosed a pattern. At any rate, what my 352 European tourists wanted to see probably is what tourists still want to see and retain in their memories.

Tourists visit art galleries, museums and historic buildings to try to understand the people and their customs and to validate their own impressions of history as it is revealed to them in school texts, news reports, and family traditions.

What opportunity is there for the people of Appleton to satisfy their curiosity as to the past, or to find a measuring stick to show our progress? Most of our historic buildings have been destroyed. Even the quite extensive museum of natural history that Lawrence college once maintained has gone with its many priceless artifacts. No, we have no place to house reminders of a past that had its beginning only 14 years after Plymouth Rock, and time is fast running out to find and preserve authentic historic relics to display to future generations.

All of the Fox river cities, except Appleton, have museums to attract visitors, while Appleton, the very center of pioneer activity, has nothing.

Only One Chance Left

Appleton has a unique opportunity and reason to start now to preserve a spot that should have a national, almost a world, appeal. On Prospect street, near the Memorial drive bridge, is located the first house in the world to be lighted by electricity! There should be an immediate effort to acquire this property to start therein our own museum for Appleton and vicinity. The present building is large enough to serve for some years, and the site well adapted to allow for necessary expansion.

Do Something Now

Everybody's business is nobody's business said the old timers, so what should be done? The city council could do well to acquire this property. The city council could create an Appleton Museum Authority with power to solicit exhibits to prepare proper housing for fragile items and the display of sturdier pieces that many would like to loan or to donate to such a city-sponsored center. Also, they could authorize this committee to accept money gifts for maintenance. In short, this last and only authentic historic emblem of Appleton's connection with the traditional beginnings of our country may go the way of other monuments unless interested friends make an organized effort now.

Backward-Thinking Senators
Cost Us Great Opportunity

Editor, Post-Crescent:

It happens that the leaders of all the Great Powers today have had a glorious vision of what they call the "Golden Sixties". All the under-developed countries are awakening. They looked and have seen our television sets; our clothes dryers and washers; our irrigation equipment. For some ungodly reason they'd like some of these good things of life, too.

All over the world they hope! Our leaders have seen this hope, hence the vision. In a few years maybe we can sell these teeming millions

Richmond's Mill Best in State

100 YEARS AGO

Quoted from the Appleton Crescent for the week of March 31, 1860.

We went through the extensive establishment of the Appleton Paper Mills, now in full tide of successful operation. The Messrs. Richmond have been indefatigable in carrying through their great project and now they can boost the best paper mill in all Wisconsin.

The machinery is perfect in all its parts and works to a charm. The building itself is one of the most solid and substantial structures to be found anywhere in the West and reflects lasting credit upon the skill and mechanical ability of its architects and master builders, Messrs. Clark and Barker.

The roof is flat and covered with Russell's Patent Roofing, impregnable against fire or water. The pump has a huge capacity with a hose attachment by means of which, in case a fire should break out in any one of the four stories of the edifice, it can be extinguished very quickly.

The building is complete in all its parts. Machinery will unload and load steamers at its very door, the large tract of land (10 acres) attached to the mill furnishes abundant room for residences of workmen, three of which already have been erected.

We think the Appleton Mill will surely earn a fortune for its enterprising and deservedly popular proprietors and give employment to a great many families.

Under the Capitol Dome
Election Costs Bring
No Democratic Protests

BY JOHN WYNGAARD

Madison — There has been a curious silence on one of the most obvious and significant aspects of the current Wisconsin presidential primary campaign — its lush financing.

As far as the naked eye can see, the Kennedy campaign is the best financed and most skillfully directed that Wisconsin politicians have ever seen. Perhaps that is a redundant description. The best professional skills in America nowadays tend to go to the politicians with the biggest financial muscle.

But the Humphrey effort is not far behind. The Minnesota aspirant who is running from behind, and whose irritations lately suggest that he knows it well, probably has some complaint about the superior resources of his rival. But notwithstanding his relative position, he is spending at a pace that is making many a local Democrat, used to running a Wisconsin campaign on a shoe-string, gape with envy and astonishment.

WHAT ABOUT IT?

Campaign spending on the scale that now is being observed must grate upon many Wisconsin people, if the Wisconsin traditions of limiting campaign disbursements and publicizing them retain any support and legitimacy.

Half a century ago the Wisconsin legislature wrote the ground rules on the use of money in state elections. The corrupt practices law, so-called, has been amended from time to time to take into account, rather tardily, changing conditions. But even today it prescribes severe limits for all public office contenders, from police court judge to governor. Apparently the business of electing presidential convention delegates is in a twilight zone, however. If there are any controls, express or implied, nobody appears to be paying any attention to them.

In many past years the use of money in politics was one of the professional worries of the liberals. There has been no campaign cry of the Progressives and their latter-day representatives in the Democratic party that is more familiar than that about the superior resources and spending appetites of the typical Republican party slate and Republican state organization.

But today all past records for the use of dollars in electoral persuasion are being blasted, and there is nothing at all being said about it. The observing voter may wonder whether money is an unfair weapon only when it is in the hands of the Republicans.

It is perhaps an empty wish, but it would be illuminating, at the least, to track down the actual disbursement of the Democratic residential candidates in this comparatively small state — and reflect about the consequences in dollar terms of the national primary that some reformers are now advocating. An educated guess is that the total spending here this spring, in a relatively brief canvass, will be two or three times the gross cost of the average fight for the governorship.

MEANING

Aside from the patent hypocrisy of some of the professional idealists on this question, it contains within it one of the gravest challenges to the democratic idea.

Without any intention of being invidious, how would the man of modest means compete in a Wisconsin delegate election today against one contender who commands a private fortune, and another who evidently can tap financial angels in distant places at will? Are the highest places in American public life to be reserved in the future for those who can command luxurious campaign chests? Are the voters to be led about in the most important elections in the nation by the tested arts of the professional huckster?

When the thoughtful man on a Milwaukee street is accosted half a dozen times in a walk of a few blocks by paid handbill distributors, he may wonder how Mr. Lincoln would have fared in a presidential primary in 1960, or what Mr. Jefferson would have said if he could have looked ahead a century and a half.

Schools Will Rent Equipment To Church Unit

Sacred Heart Preparing for Enrollment Hike

The Appleton board of education Monday agreed to rent to Sacred Heart Catholic school unused primary school equipment next fall in order to take care of increased enrollments in the Catholic school's second grade.

The possibility had been mentioned that Sacred Heart would not have a second grade because of the crowded conditions. But Msgr. Emil J. Schmit, pastor, said this week-end that two rooms near the school's gymnasium will be used to handle the children.

This year, 212 children attend first grade in public schools and take weekly religious instruction at Sacred Heart. Thus far, 175 of these have registered to attend the parochial school next fall, Msgr. Schmit said. There will be four rooms of second graders, he said. First graders will continue to attend public schools.

In case some parents decide to send their children to the less crowded public schools, the board of education gave Supt. John P. Mann permission to hire additional teachers if necessary.

Msgr. Schmit said he is looking forward to a new Catholic school in the southeast part of the city, which is expected to be built by September, 1962.

Valley Council Scouts Train For Emergency

Communications, First Aid Cases Studied by Troops

Boy Scouts from throughout the Valley council met in three cities Sunday to test their skill in first aid and emergency communications.

Scouts from the Tri-City district met at Madison Junior High school, Appleton, to compete for ribbons on handling first aid problems such as burns, poisoning, lacerations, shock and broken bones. They also practiced accurate communication of emergency messages to proper authorities.

About 390 scouts from 18 troops in the Tri-City district took part. The session was supervised and judged by 90 adult leaders and explorer scouts.

Win First Place

In Kaukauna, 259 scouts from 11 troops in the East district held a similar session and scouts in the North district met at Shawano.

First place in Tri-City competition went to the Apache patrol of Troop 6, sponsored by a group of citizens. It meets at Jefferson school. The patrol scored 619 out of a possible 650 points. Scoutmaster is Miles Miedam.

The Bat patrol, of Troop 56, St. Timothy Lutheran church Menasha, took second place with 616 points. James Woodward is scoutmaster.

Third place went to the Apache patrol of Troop 8, First Congregational church, Appleton, with 611 points. Edward Young is scoutmaster.

Board Calls for Bids on Houses

The board of education decided Monday to take sealed bids on the Carl Bertram and Sara Baker homes which must be removed to make way for the new Edison school.

The board will accept separate or combined bids on the two houses and two garages. Bids are due at 4 p. m. April 20. The board agreed to reserve the right to reject any or all of the bids if it feels they are too low. In such case a public auction would be scheduled.

City School Heads Invited to Talks

Dr. John Guy Fowlkes, University of Wisconsin education professor administering the Wisconsin Improvement program, has invited school superintendents and boards from Appleton and other cities participating in the program to a weekend meeting in Pewaukee May 6 to 8.

Fowlkes wrote that the program, financed by a Ford Foundation grant, will pay for food and lodging of the superintendents and board members at Oakton Manor near Pewaukee.

School Sites Referred Again

Committee to Work On Pieces of Land Southeast of City

The board of education Monday referred back to its business affairs committee the question of school sites on the southeast outskirts of the city.

The board has an offer from Land Associates, Inc., to sell an 8-acre site north of County Trunk Z between Appleton and Kimberly.

A map of the area shows there would be six lots along the north edge of the 500 by 697-foot school land. Board members indicated that they would like to have the whole block, about nine acres, so that there would be more playground space.

Supt. John P. Mann reminded the board that a school south of Z will be needed sooner than one in the north. The board hopes to get a site just east of the city limits between Forest and Clara streets.

Catlin Outlines Port Problems For Optimists

Shows Club How Three Groups View Airport Facilities

A "middle of the road" approach to proposed action—or inaction — on the Outagamie county airport was advocated by Mark Catlin, Jr., chairman of the county board airport and parks committee, Tuesday.

Speaking to the Appleton Optimist club,

Catlin said there appear to be three attitudes toward the airport—some people advocate a very modern, expensive airport, others want adequate facilities and a third group wants to do nothing at all. "I am in the middle group," he said.

"Unfortunately, most members of the third group seem to be on the county board," Catlin quipped.

Inadequate Facilities

He commented that a recent study showed the present facilities are inadequate, although the site will serve for 15 years.

People who don't want to do anything with the airport should be convinced of its value by a recent survey which shows that in a city comparable to Appleton, people brought in by the airport left over $5½ million in the city over a 10-year period, Catlin said.

He said he didn't feel there was any demand or need for an ultra-modern, expensive airport in Outagamie county. It is feasible, he said, that the present site could be expanded when Highway 41 is relocated.

Ask $101,000

Catlin pointed out difficulty of relocation at the dollar and cents level. To participate in the federal aid to airports program we would either have to stay on the present site, because application for $101,000 already has been submitted, he said, or get approval to move from the Wisconsin aeronautics commission.

In order to get federal aid at the present time a commitment to the program must be made by Sept. 1 or Oct. 1.

"If we change the site and expect to improve it in the next two or three years we will have to pay the bill because I seriously doubt if we could get approval of the state aeronautics commission," he added.

Application for federal aid is one half the estimated cost of extending the main runway to 5,000 feet to handle Convair service resurfacing the present strip and building a taxi strip.

Catlin pointed out the inadequacies of present service, but told the group a North Central official said last year a morning and evening flight would be provided if there was sufficient interest. "And I think we've shown that,"

Martin H. Knauer, Owner 204 E. College Ave. Dial 3-5551

House this is a long-gone fellow who wrote an epic poem on the adventures of Ulysses without once using certain letters of the alphabet.

His work filled 24 volumes. In his first book of the set, he filled every page with words—not one of which contained the letter “A.” That volume was named “Alpha.” The second book, titled “Beta” contained never a letter “B.” The other volumes each omitted another letter, all in turn. I have never read the volumes — and I never will. It occurs to me that the curious set of volumes might have been better done if they had contained no letters at all.

Hundreds of would-be writers have inflicted themselves with handicaps when, alas, their handicaps were natural enough — they couldn't write.

Letter-dropping was not enough for some of the writers of another day. For example, Lord North who was a denizen of the famed court of St. James, wrote a long and intolerable sonnet wherein each succeeding word was begun with a different, succeeding letter of the alphabet.

Others have attempted to create full works by getting every (or nearly as possible) letter of the alphabet into a sentence, like "John P. Brady gave me a black walnut box of quite a small size."

Because the letter "E" is the most-used letter of the alphabet, writers by the dozens have attempted to restrict their talent by the creation of long works without ever once employing that alphabetical work - horse. One author achieved a verse using every letter of the alphabet except the letter "E," thus:

A jovial swain may rack his brain

And tax his fancy's might,

To quix in vain, for 'tis most plain

That what I say is right.

Another writer, of yore wrote a lengthy ode, but he, too, gave himself an unfair handicap. His gummick had the letter "A" in every word of the first verse, the letter "B" in every word of the second, and so on and on into vast stupidity.

Blind Verse?

It is too long and useless to include totally, but here is the verse which contains the ninth letter, "I."

The alphabetical tomfoolery sometimes was permitted to sail under the flag of dignity although I cannot understand why. One example was used at the celebration of the erection

1st Day of White House Conference Proves It is Meant for Hard Work

BY EDGAR W. NELL
Post-Crescent News Service

Washington—We still can't be sure whether we're involved in a mass of meetings or a mass of meetings. But we definitely have learned after this first day of the 1960 White House Conference on Children and Youth that this is certainly a "conference" and not a convention.

Monday's theme was "appraising ideals and values in their changing world" under the conference's board theme of "Children and Youth 1960." The theme for the day was expounded by 10 distinguished speakers in five concurrent assemblies.

Bernard Strumbras and Mrs. Marion Freeman, Appleton, and the Rev. W. T. Spaling and Russel Way, Green Bay, all heard Prof. Abraham J. Heschele of the Jewish Theological Seminary of America startle his audience by placing most of the blame on any shortcomings of our young people on the parents.

"Without profound reverence for father and mother, our ability to observe the other commandments is dangerously impaired," he said.

Chuck Asher, Sturgeon Bay, and I have been assigned

Spring Gives Its Kiss to Fox Cities

The Fox Cities were kissed by spring today. Sun and warm temperatures were more than welcome.

Spring was accompanied by fog throughout the state. In some areas the warm weather meant thunderstorms and high water.

Thunderstorms were reported near Grantsburg and in the Brule area, where some damage was reported to electric power lines.

The warm spell was preceded Monday with cold, damp weather. The weatherman said temperatures may go as high as 60 in some places before the day is over.

Cold weather, however, is expected to return Wednesday.

All of us follow the same procedure for these first three days. We start with the theme assemblies which set the inspirational tone of the day's proceedings, with about 1,400 persons in attendance. These are followed immediately by forums of 350 persons each, and then come the work groups, each assigned a specific subject or problem, where sharp discussion hammers out the recommendations.

Strumbras, Outagamie county child welfare director, has "knowing, understanding and helping the maladjusted" as his subject. His workgroup is almost wholly a professional group which seems to be headed for a recommendation regarding earlier detection, diagnosis and treatment of emotional ills.

Wisconsin Ahead

Wisconsin is so far ahead of most states in social services offered that Mrs. Freeman, Outagamie county nurse, found it difficult the first day to enter into the discussion on "knowing, understanding and helping the physically handicapped" subject of her workgroup. She feels that most Wisconsiners merely take for granted the many advantages they already have.

As for myself, I was particularly impressed with the international flavor of the group. In my workgroup alone, personnel consists of a New York lawyer, the program director of the National Recreation association, a California recreation director, a New Hampshire girl's club leader, an Alabama high school girl, an Iowa priest, a North Carolina librarian, a Vermont youth center director and a representative from each Cambodia, Canada, Brazil and Jamaica.

Airplane Towed to Outagamie County Port After Mishap

A Utility Clearing Service, Inc., Cessna 180 airplane which received about $5,000 damage in a landing mishap near Dale March 13 was pulled to the Outagamie county airport Sunday after a special permit was issued for highway travel. The plane's tail was higher than standard highway loads.

The mishap occurred when Gwyn J. Johnson landed on a field near Dale and a light snow crust and drifts caused the plane to overturn. Johnson was unhurt in the crash, which damaged radio equipment, the propeller and wings.

Utility Clearing Service patrols utility lines in Wisconsin, Michigan and Minnesota and Johnson is president of the concern. It is his first mishap in 13 years of flying.

Roach Shaken Up In Collision While Chasing Fly Balls

Rain Washes Out Pirate Game; Most Braves in Plate Slumps

Bradenon, Fla. — Rain washed out the Braves' meeting with the Pittsburgh Pirates Monday, and so the Milwaukee squad spent the day improvising with nearly serious consequences for Mel Roach.

Roach, hobbled by injuries the last two seasons, was horsing around chasing pop flies when he collided with Lee Maye, an outfielder. The slim Roach, a second base candidate, went down after the crash and it was 15 minutes before he was able to resume the workout.

Schedule, TV Big Topics at NFL Meeting

Circuit to Open Season Late in September, as Usual

Chicago — The busy National Football league, holding its fourth meeting in five months, gets together today to set up a 1960 playing schedule and television program.

The league, which has added a thirteenth member, Dallas, and has switched the Cardinal franchise from Chicago to St. Louis, will open its season on the last Sunday of September as usual.

However, 13 weeks will be necessary to complete the regular season with each club playing 12 games and having one open date.

The league can accept a 3-million-dollar package deal for televising every game played or retain the old policy under which several clubs had their own networks.

Illinois' Elliott Delays Grid Drills

Champaign, Ill. — Coach Pete Elliott postponed Illinois' spring football drills until Wednesday because of wet fields.

The Illini were scheduled to begin their drills Monday.

A New Breed Developing

Players Now Well-Groomed Businessmen, Says Erskine

BY WILL GRIMSLEY

New York — Carl Erskine says the major leagues are producing a new breed of ball players — slick, well-groomed businessmen in Ivy league suits with one ear tuned to the stock market ticker.

"The big league player today has his own agent and legal adviser," the former Dodger pitcher adds. "He owns a car, a house, and a half-interest in some restaurant. When the shirt he sells. He is articulate through with baseball. He's not a candidate for the relief roles."

"It's a long haul from the old days when the boys sat around in hotel lobbies picking their teeth and took in no less than two Westerns a day."

"I started the second game of a doubleheader for the Dodgers in Pittsburgh," he said.

Erskine's comments were made at a luncheon Monday at which a national shirt manufacturer announced that Erskine, two other former major league players — Jim Hearn and Jerry Coleman — and the New York Giants defensive end, last game of big league base-

Chicago Black Hawks Bobby Hull, left, and Ken Wharram, report to sick bay at the Chicago stadium Monday for treatment. Hull, who is the National Hockey league scoring champion, is getting heat treatment for a charley horse, and Wharram takes his vitamins through a glass tube because of a broken jaw which has been wired. The Hawks meet Montreal tonight in semi-final Stanley cup competition.

Kline Fires 9-Inning 6-Hitter At White Sox for 3-1 Victory

Herbert Builds Scoreless String To 18 Innings

By The Associated Press

Right-hander Ron Kline, traded to St. Louis when he came down with a case of foot-in-the-mouth disease at Pittsburgh, is another of the Cardinals' pitching ragamuffins developing winning ways under the tutelage of Coach Howie Pollet.

Kline became the third consecutive member of the Cards' mound staff (worst in the National league last season with a 4.34 earned run average) to go the full nine innings and win when he limited the American league Champion Chicago White Sox to six hits Monday in a 3-1 victory.

5th Straight

It was the fifth straight exhibition victory and the ninth in the last 10 games for St. Louis, which previously received route-going performances from Larry Jackson and "Vinegar Bend" Mizell.

Kline, who says he became trade bait at Pittsburgh after some caustic comments about the way he was being handled, has not allowed an earned run in 19 innings.

Kansas City's Ray Herbert stretched his scoreless string to 18 innings with seven shut-out frames as the A's defeated Detroit, 4-1. In other games, Los Angeles thumped New York, 9-3, and the Baltimore Orioles turned back the Cincinnati Reds, 4-1.

Young Pitchers, Rookie Infielders And Brandt Carry Oriole Hopes

BY JACK HAND

Miami, Fla. — Baltimore's hopes of a first-division finish lean heavily on a kid pitching staff, two rookie infielders and Jackie Brandt's play in center field.

Brandt could tighten up the outfield. The kid pitchers should be better. If the infield is to improve, either Marv Breeding or Jerry Adair must make it at second and Ron Hansen must do the job at shortstop.

"If the kids develop we feel we can do better," said Manager Paul Richards, who has a talent for handling pitchers.

"We do not have quite as acute a problem in the outfield as we had last year. We couldn't seem to master a tight defense and still retain an offense. We have a better double play possibility. If we make the pitching all the better."

Boys Wilhelm (15-11) and Hal "Skinny" Brown (11-9) add balance to the young staff.

Richards could have four starters whose aces would average 21 Milt Pappas (15-9), is only 20; Jerry Walker (11-10) and Jack Fisher (1-6) are 21; and Chuck Estrada (14-6 at Vancouver) is 22.

Steve Barber, 21, has been the talk of the camp. The left-hander with a 7-11 record at Pensacola last year, could be the southpaw in the bullpen. The other lefties are Billy

Babe Ruth League Will Make Appleton Debut

Junior Baseball Association to Direct New Program as Well as the LL

The Babe Ruth league—the intermediate step between the Little league and American Legion baseball programs — will make its debut in Appleton this summer.

Four teams of boys in the 13-15 age bracket are planned for the inaugural season. Any boy born prior to Sept. 1, 1947, and on or after Sept. 1, 1944, will be eligible.

A new organization, the Appleton Junior Baseball association, has been formed to direct both LL and Babe Ruth activities. H. J. "Kelly" Weller will serve as chairman of the board of control of the new group.

Other association officers, assuming the same duties they had handled for the Little league exclusively, are Ed Krueger, vice president; John Graff, secretary; and George Lutz, treasurer.

The LL-Babe Ruth baseball program is one of two offered Appleton youths during the summer. The other is sponsored by the Appleton Recreation association.

More than 600 boys are expected to play in the LL-Babe Ruth program this year.

U.S.-Cuba Baseball Relations Strained

Baltimore Cancellation Resented

BY ED WILKS

Miami — U.S. - Cuban baseball relations were strained alarmingly today in a dispute that reached up to the state department.

It all started when Lee MacPhail, president of the Baltimore Orioles, canceled a series of three exhibition games scheduled to open Monday night in Havana against the Cincinnati Reds.

This brought an immediate barrage of criticism from Cuban officials from top to bottom. But MacPhail stuck by his guns and kept the games in Miami.

Complained Major Felipe Guerra Matos, the Cuban government sports director: "The action was an aggression to Cuban baseball and the Cuban people."

He added the Cuban government could not passively contemplate cancellation of the games.

Said MacPhail: "We did just what we thought best for the club. Ten or 12 players didn't want to go to Cuba, but we could have gotten up a squad to make the trip."

Denied By Frick

One Cuban newspaper reported that the state department had been approached by Commissioner Ford Frick but "sought no action at this time."

Frick, in New York, denied this.

"It was Baltimore's decision as home team to play where they wished," he added. "My office had nothing to do with it."

In Washington, a State department spokesman said the department had not been approached.

"We would have no objection," he said. "In fact, the department would probably look with some favor on our boys playing there. After all, half the Senators (Washington Senators) are Cubans."

Revolution, the semi-official government organ in Havana, labelled MacPhail "Public Enemy No. 1 of Cuban baseball."

Bobby Maduro, president of the Havana team of the International League, said the team would play in Havana.

Dodgers Put Howard In Doghouse for Failing To Show Up for Game

Young Slugger Fined for Second AWOL Incident in Two Weeks

BY JOE REICHLER

St. Petersburg, Fla. — Frank Howard, the towering Los Angeles Dodgers bonus baby, took up residence in the doghouse today for missing a practice game.

Howard, who collected $108,000 in bonuses after being graduated from Ohio State, was placed on probation and fined. There were indications that if his department does not improve, he will stay in the kennels.

Howard, 6-7 and 240 pounds, was scheduled to appear in the Montreal-Spokane game at the Dodgers' Vero Beach base Sunday while the main squad traveled to West Palm Beach for a game with the Kansas City A's. He didn't show up.

This was the second time in two weeks that Howard had been AWOL. A week ago Sunday, he missed the Dodgers' plane to Orlando and returned home without working out at Vero Beach.

He lives off base with his wife. "He will be fined," said General Manager "Buz" Bavasi. "The amount will be determined by his behavior the rest of the spring."

"I am very unhappy about this incident particularly because it was a paid game to which fans paid to see Howard and other Dodgers."

Investment in Him

"I told him: 'We've got an investment in you, not you in us. I can't have one set of rules for you and another for the other players.'"

Howard, it was learned, was unhappy about being left off the traveling squad Sunday. "I can't make the team staying behind at Vero Beach," he told Manager Walter Alston.

"Then he got smart," Alston said. "He goes to the batting cage and hits 15 more than anyone else. He played in eight of our first 12 games. Then he says he's mistreated. I've spent more time personally with Howard than anyone on the roster."

"Like Everybody Else"

Bavasi added: "We have to treat Howard like everybody else. If we let one player miss practice we'd have to let everybody. I also told him that if he couldn't abide by the rules, he could go home."

Howard declined to say a word about his misadventures, but Bavasi said he realized the error of his ways. He worked out Monday, but didn't get into the game against the New York Yankees. Alston would not say if Howard would play against the St. Louis Cardinals here today.

"His trouble is that he's always trying to hit those 600-foot home runs," observed Alston. "I'd rather he hit two 300-foot home runs than one 600-footer. He also has a problem with the strike zone. He's got to learn where it is and hit the ball a little oftener."

After tonight's game in Chicago, Montreal and the Hawks will play one more in Chicago and move back to Montreal if a fifth game is necessary. Detroit and Toronto return to the latter's bailiwick for a fifth game Thursday.

Hot Celtics Favored By 11 Points Tonight

'We Won't be Soft Touch This Time,' Vows St. Louis Coach Ed Macauley

Boston —(AP)— "We'll be ready," St. Louis Hawk Coach Ed Macauley vowed.

"We won't be any soft touch this time," he told a lunch-con group Monday.

"I got news for you, Bud," replied Boston Celtics Coach Red Auerbach. "We aren't exactly going to be cold in this game."

The two teams square off tonight in the second game of the best-of-7 playoff series for the National Basketball association title. Local odds-makers have the defending champion Celtics 11-point favorites to make it two in a row. They ran up a record-breaking 140-122 victory in the first playoff game.

One Major Problem

After tonight, the series switches to St. Louis for two games.

The Hawks, Western division winners, have one major problem: Will sub center Larry Foust be able to play?

Foust suffered a bone bruise on his heel in the first semifinal playoff game with Minneapolis. Since then he has played with his heel shot full of novocaine. It is extremely painful, Macauley said, and Foust may not be able to play.

With Foust out, the Hawks would have only regular Clyde Lovellette to oppose Boston's Bill Russell.

Joe Cunningham backed Kline with three hits and two run-saving catches which deprived Ted Kluszewski of extra-base hits. The White Sox settled for an unearned run off Kline, scoring in the fifth inning on an error and singles by Minnie Minoso and Dick Brown.

Working Room

Marv Throneberry gave Herbert all the working room he needed with a 2-run homer in the second inning. Herbert, 11-11 with the seventh place A's last season, has permitted only nine hits this spring and became the first Kansas City pitcher to go seven innings.

Gil Hodges and rookie Charley Smith hit home runs for the Dodgers while Johnny Podres scattered six hits in a strong seven-inning stint against the Yanks. The world champions belted Bob Turley for 10 hits in six stanzas, including Smith's inside-the-park belt with two on.

The Reds pushed across a run in the top of the tenth but the Orioles came back with two off reliever Billy Henry in their half. Walt Drophy singles home the winning run.

Sees Strong Boxing Field In Olympics

Sacramento, Calif. —(AP)— Coach Julie Menendez doesn't expect Russia, the United States, or anyone else to dominate boxing at the Olympic games in Rome this summer.

The San Jose State college coach and former professional admits his U.S. Olympic team must contend with heavy competition from the unofficial defending champion Russian squad.

"But Argentina showed in the Pan American games it has a fine team, Italy should be strong, and England, South Africa and Ireland traditionally are tough competitors," said Menendez.

In all, some 53 countries have filed boxing entries with Olympic officials, he added.

Several hundred boxers throughout America have started or soon will be in a grueling series of competitions which will end when top college, Golden Gloves and service fighters meet at San Francisco's Cow Palace April 18, 19 and 20 for the Olympic trials.

Hicks and Martin Are Best-Looking Chisox Rookies

Orlando, Fla. —(AP)— Despite the fact the Chicago White Sox have some good-looking rookies in camp, few, if any, are expected to make the varsity.

The two brightest newcomers are Joe Hicks and J. C. Martin. Hicks might make the grade as a utility outfielder and pinch hitter.

Martin, who plays both third and first, appears out of luck because Ted Kluszewski and Earl Torgeson are slated for first base and Gene Freese will be the club's third baseman with Sammy Esposito in utility.

Hicks and Martin have seen a lot of action in exhibition games this spring and both have been very impressive. Hicks batted .315 with Indiana last year and Martin was .287 with the same club.

World Series of College Football Proposed by NU's Stu Holcomb

Playoff Would be Modeled After NCAA Tourneys

Evanston, Ill. —(AP)— A college football world series has been proposed by Stu Holcomb, Northwestern university athletic director.

Holcomb said Monday night that he has suggested a football playoff modeled after the NCAA's basketball and baseball tournaments. He wrote Big Ten Commissioner K. L. "Tug" Wilson and NCAA Executive Sec. Walter Byers, he said.

Holcomb, somewhat dubious that such a plan would be passed, said the tournament would differ from football bowl games inasmuch as the games would be played in college stadiums and under the sole auspices of collegiate officials.

The idea would be to select champions from six major conferences plus two at-large teams, probably from major independents.

Proposed Leagues

The proposed conferences would be the Big Ten, the Athletic Association of Western Universities, the Big Eight, the Southeast, the Atlantic and the Southwest. Army, Navy, Syracuse, Pittsburgh, Notre Dame, Air Force and any other school not in one of the six specified conferences would provide the at-large teams.

The Big Ten recently voted to pull out of postseason competition in all sports. Some educators claim there is a long lag between the regular season and the bowl games. Wayne Steinberg, 575, Mill Drier's 574 for the champion Teens (28-17) led the final round of Comic Couples loop kegling at Hahn's. Len Hanstedt, Jr., rolled a 230 for the Hooples and finished at 555. The Mullins finished half a game back, in second, and the Jiggs, were third.

Other men's honor scores: Dick Nabbefeld, 563; N. A. Belling, 550; Conrad Schink, 573.

Shirley Rasmussen fired a 524 for women's honors. Gladys Friesen shot the top game, a 190. Ann Recker hit a 513.

Las Vegas, Nev. —(AP)— Charlie Powell, 214, San Diego, Calif., scored a seventh round technical knockout Monday night over Harold Carter, 199, Linden, N. J. It was scheduled for 10.

Carter was ahead on three cards, having scored with short right crosses and lefts to the head. Powell, relying on long jabs and hooks, finally dug a hard left into the belt line in the seventh and, as Carter dropped his guard, nailed him with a right to the jaw. Powell then chased Carter all around the ring and finally drove him through the ropes.

Wilt Reiterates He's Through With NBA

But Says League
'Might Change' at Writers' Fete

Philadelphia — (AP) — Wilt Chamberlain has reiterated he'll never again play in the National Basketball association but this time he tacked on a couple of additional statements, indicating a possibility he may return.

"Not if I can help it," he said in an interview Monday night preceding the Philadelphia Basketball Writers club fourteenth awards banquet where he was honored as the NBA's outstanding player and rookie.

The other statement he made after reiterating he wouldn't return to the NBA was: "But the NBA might change."

He said by this he meant the players and some of the franchises "and maybe some other things." He did not elaborate.

Charges Back

The 7-2 Philadelphia Warriors' star, who announced last week he's quitting after a record-breaking season, also charged back at Bob Cousy of the Boston Celtics who accused him of complaining about being pushed around and of injecting racial issues into his decision to quit.

Cousy, who asked to be considered spokesman for other players in the NBA, had said "Chamberlain being the racial issue as one reason for quitting. In my 10 years in the NBA I never saw any evidence of racial prejudice."

Chamberlain said he wasn't bothered by the remarks of Cousy whom he felt didn't have a right to talk as a spokesman for every player in the league. Cousy is the NBA's players' representative.

He implied that Negroes have encountered various problems in the league but again he did not elaborate.

Horse Trainer Hirsch Jacobs Eyes No. 3,000

New York — (AP) — Horse trainer Hirsch Jacobs, the carrot-topped former pigeon fancier from Brooklyn, went after an unprecedented 3,000 winners at Aqueduct race track today.

Famous for claiming Styrmie from the King ranch for $1,500 and developing the horse who, retired with earnings of $918,485, Jacobs saddled his first winner 34 years ago. Jacobs, now 56, needs only two winners to achieve No. 3,000. No other American trainer is close. He closed in Monday when Itching Palm and Lucky One won at Aqueduct.

Jacobs holds the record of being top American trainer for 11 years between 1933-1944, missing only 1940 when he was second. With two winners Monday, his stable earnings went past 9 million—to $9,003,257.

Northern Wisconsin Sports Show Opens Wednesday

Green Bay—The second annual Northern Wisconsin sports show will open a 5-day run at the Brown County arena Wednesday evening.

In addition to the approximately 125 booth and boat space exhibits, the show will feature such stage-tank attractions as Zippy, the chimp; two performing seals, known as "The Slickers"; Orin Benson and his retrievers; Jackie, the Talking Crow; the Tuckers' trampoline act; and Gene Mendez and his high-wire act.

Stage shows are slated for 8 p.m. each day, Wednesday through Sunday, as well as at 2:30 p.m. Saturday and Sunday. Arena doors will open at 6 p.m. Wednesday, Thursday and Friday and at noon Saturday and Sunday.

Exhibits will offer showgoers a preview of 1960 models of all types of boats, motors, fishing and hunting equipment, mobile homes, camping facilities, golf and archery accessories and other sporting equipment.

The Wisconsin Conservation department will have a 10-booth exhibit of state wildlife. The show's mascots, two "Honey Bears" from South America, will also be on display.

A free "outdoor theater" is a new show feature this year. The theater will operate in Memorial hall at all times except when the stage show is on. Color-sound films on such subjects as hunting, fishing and boating will be shown.

Thousands of showgoers are expected to try their luck in the 14 by 60 foot trout tank. Fishing will be on a "catch 'em and keep 'em" basis.

The sports show is sponsored by WBAY, with all proceeds scheduled to go to the Brown County Conservation of all types of boats, motors, fishing and hunting equipment. Fourteen sportsmen's clubs make up the alliance.

The Late George Gershwin, one of America's top composers, is shown as he appeared while working on his crowning achievement, "Porgy and Bess." The movie of the stage classic opens Wednesday at the Viking theater with Sidney Poitier and Dorothy Dandridge in the title roles, Sammy Davis, Jr., as Sportin' Life and Pearl Bailey as Maria.

Gershwin Tunes Highlight Movie 'Porgy and Bess'

Samuel Goldwyn's movie version of "Porgy and Bess" has kept George Gershwin's musical score intact without a single note changed.

When the movie opens Wednesday at the Viking theater, memorable tunes to be heard will include the lullabye "Summertime," "Bess, You Is My Woman Now," "I Loves You, Porgy," and the catchy "I Got Plenty of Nuttin' So." The only difference between the stage and screen versions is that the movie has a 50-member orchestra rather than the original 30.

Andre Previn conducts the musical score for the film. The Gershwin musical based on the DuBose Heyward novel comes to the screen with a distinguished cast. Sidney Poitier and Dorothy Dandridge play Porgy and Bess. Sammy Davis, Jr., the engaging villain, Sportin' Life. Other headliners are Pearl Bailey, Diannah Carroll and Brock Peters.

"Porgy and Bess" began its musical existence as a stage hit which made theatrical and musical history on both sides of the Atlantic. It was acclaimed the greatest American musical drama with Gershwin receiving recognition as one of the world's top 25 composers. Ira Gershwin and author Heyward wrote the lyrics.

Otto Preminger is the director of the Technicolor film production that has its locale in the now famous Catfish Row of Charleston, S.C.

Judge Refuses to Halt TV Show on Marine Ira Hayes

New York — (AP) — A federal judge refused to halt the showing of the television show "The American" Sunday night on the NBC network.

An injunction has been sought by William Bradford Huie. He claimed NBC had stolen material from his copyrighted work, "Our Torture Execution of Marine Hero Ira Hayes."

NBC said the TV story was an independent work by Merle Miller.

Judge Edward J. Dimock saw a private screening of the taped show at the NBC studio Thursday. Friday he denied Huie's request for an injunction.

Both Huie's story and the TV show are based on the life of Hayes, a Pima Indian and one of six Marines pictured raising the American flag on Iwo Jima in World War II.

Hayes died in 1955 of alcoholism and exposure on an Indian reservation in Arizona.

Nelson Praises Electric Co-ops

Cites Achievement Of Supplying Farms With Needed Power

Madison — Gov. Gaylord Nelson said Monday night the Rural Electrification administration has been so successful in accomplishing its goals "even its most enthusiastic founders have been surprised."

"Twenty-five years ago only one farmer in 10 had electric service," Nelson told a Wisconsin Rural Electric cooperative convention. "The job of electrifying the other nine of our farms seemed so big that almost all the experts said it couldn't be done at all."

"The REA program is not big government," Nelson said. "It is more than 1,000 locally-owned, locally-controlled self-help enterprises in nearly every state in the union."

The head of the National Rural Electric Cooperative association, Walter Harrison of Millen, Ga., said congress will not boost interest rates on REA loans.

"Events of recent days have made congress realize that high interest rates will trip them up in the primaries and on election day," Harrison said.

"Cheaper interest rates are needed by the whole economy to get the country back into construction," Harrison said.

The Eisenhower administration has advocated a higher interest rate for rural electrification loans.

Don't be Human Garbage Can, Says Weight-Watcher

By Joseph G. Molner, M.D.

"Why be a human garbage can?" is the slogan of some women who have shrewdly discovered why it is so easy to put on weight.

They're getting results with their odd slogan. And, as is perfectly obvious once they've pointed it out, the Dr. Molner slogan contains some effective logic.

Who figured it out first, I don't know, but it works thus: A housewife passes up the gravy, refuses conscientiously to take second helpings, and in general abides by the basic rules of staying slim.

Then, after she has cleared the table and is putting things away, she finds a little dab of this and a smitch of that.

"Not enough to save for another meal," she observes to herself. "Just a nuisance in the refrigerator." So she eats it.

Natural Reaction

Don't you? It's natural enough to do.

Some smart woman suddenly realized that this wasn't being "thrifty," wasn't doing any good and was in fact harmful. What she was really doing, she saw, was "being a human garbage can." Whoever she was, more power to her.

I heard about it from a woman who related, "I've been trying the same thing, and when I say to myself 'Don't be the family garbage can,' it works."

"You don't enjoy that kind of eating. You don't eat because you want food. You just eat because you don't want to throw the food away. But what that kind of eating can do to your diet!

This Makes Sense

"I'm perfectly willing," she went on, "to eat something just because it looks so good and tastes so good, and I eat it with the full knowledge that I'll have to pay for it the next day, and maybe the day after, too, by cutting down on other things."

"But I don't mind doing that. It's worth it. It isn't worth it to have to tighten up on your diet because you've eaten something you don't really want, and ate only to get rid of it."

Makes sense, doesn't it, to stop being "the family garbage can."

Loss Temporary

"Dear Dr. Molner: In your article on the 'enlarged prostate gland,' you recommend removal of the gland. I was contemplating such an operation but, Dr. Molner, does one not lose control over the emptying of the bladder?"

Let me quibble with your wording just a bit. You seem to imply that I said that all enlarged prostate glands should be removed. This is not the case. Some should and some shouldn't, and examination and good judgment are the basis for deciding.

As to your question, there may be temporary loss of control after a prostate gland operation, but this soon disappears.

The temporary inconvenience can be balanced against troubles that may stem from an enlarged prostate. Frequency, dribbling, getting up several times in the night, even complete obstruction, which, of course, is a critical condition.

A considerable proportion of enlarged prostates which are removed are found to contain cancer; thus it obviously has been a very wise move in these cases. So my advice to you is this: If removal is recommended by your doctor, do not hesitate to have it done.

Germ Disease

NOTE TO A.J.P.: No, tuberculosis does not "skip a generation," any more than colds, smallpox, pneumonia or other germ-transmitted diseases do. These are not hereditary diseases; they depend on exposure to the germs.

Marine Denies Flag Raising Picture Posed

'Phony' Charge Crops Up After TV Play on Ira Hayes

Washington — A man who was on Mt. Suribachi the day it was captured in 1945 says the famous Joe Rosenthal photograph of the flag raising "definitely was not a phony."

Rosenthal and others have repeatedly denied that the Iwo Jima picture was somehow faked or posed, but the story keeps cropping up.

(John Bradley, formerly of Appleton and now an Antigone Funeral director, was one of the six men photographed by Rosenthal raising the flag on Iwo Jima. He is the son of Mrs. James Bradley, 335 W. Sixth street, and the brother of Mrs. William Garvey, 914 W. Prospect avenue.)

The newest denial came Monday from Louis Lowery, a Marine staff sergeant on Iwo Jima at the time and now photographic director for the Marines' Leatherneck magazine.

Lines In Play

He spoke out after the question was raised again in a Sunday television play in the lines of an actor portraying the late Ira Hayes, one of the Marines ie Chart," write me in care of this newspaper, enclosing a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and five cents in coin to cover handling. (Copyright, 1960) shown in Rosenthal's picture. The play had Hayes saying: "They'd taken about 10,000 pictures that day... everybody knew it was a phony. Everybody on the island was laughing about that phony flag-raising picture."

After the TV show, the Associated Press issued a statement saying there was not the slightest foundation in fact for any suggestion the picture was a phony.

Rosenthal, now with the San Francisco Chronicle, said he was grateful to the AP for what he called "their accurate statement insofar as my participation is concerned." Rosenthal was an Associated Press photographer when he took the picture.

Lowery took a picture of the first flag raising on the mountain, three or four hours before Rosenthal snapped his widely used shot of a group of marines putting up a second and larger flag.

Lowery said Rosenthal's shot "was certainly not a posed picture."

"It was merely a physical thing of taking down a smaller flag, which was hard to see over the whole island, and replacing it with a much larger flag. They did it only once—consequently, it wasn't rehearsed."

Buick, Oldsmobile Small Cars to Have Aluminum Engines

Detroit — The tradepaper Automotive News said Monday the new compact cars of Buick and Oldsmobile will be introduced later this year with water-cooled aluminum V-8 engines.

Joseph M. Callahan, engineering editor of Automotive News, said the engines will develop 140 to 150 horsepower and will have 215 cubic inch displacement.

He said the engines will be cast from pig aluminum at General Motors' Central Foundry division plant at Defiance, Ohio. Earlier reports had said that if aluminum were used the engines probably would be cast at Central Foundry's Bedford, Ind., plant.

What will your son's happiness cost ten years from now? Here's how investing may help you

1. The needs and wants of a growing family increase as the years pass. From a 10¢ toy to a $40 suit to an expensive college education some day. The good provider must think ahead.

2. Sound investing in stocks and bonds has helped many meet their family responsibilities. Many stocks have kept pace with the growing economy of America. Bonds usually provide a fixed, regular income.

3. More than 12 million Americans own a share in the country's business and industry. Some invest thousands, some with as little as $40 every three months. Regardless of their means, most are trying to be better providers.

4. Advice on investing is easily available and free. You'll want facts and advice before investing, and you can get these from any of the 2,600 offices of Member Firms of the New York Stock Exchange located coast-to-coast. The only charge will be a small commission when you buy or sell.

5. Consider these suggestions: Don't invest money you need for living expenses or emergency savings. No security is a "sure thing." The prices of stocks and bonds go down as well as up, and sometimes a company may not pay dividends or interest.

Start by getting more information. Send the coupon below for a free copy of "INVESTMENT FACTS." It answers a number of questions about investing, and it lists over 300 stocks that have paid quarterly dividends every year from 20 to 36 years.

1961 Congress May Offer New Plan, Attorney Tells Group

Post-Crescent News Service

Sturgeon Bay — Farm co-operators last year avoided one tax crisis and won a major victory, but the threat of "unfair" taxes on coopera-tives may again come up in the 1961 congress, according to Wilfred Rumbel, St. Paul attorney and tax expert for cooperatives.

Speaking at the 14th annual meeting of Lake to Lake Dairy cooperative, Rumbel explained the victory over a tax plan that would have threatened cooperatives. He gave credit for the victory to Vice President Richard Nixon.

The internal revenue bureau, he said, decided taxes plus penalties were to be assessed on patronage dividends that were not distributed to members of non-exempt co-operators within 75 days after the close of the fiscal year. The law permits exempt cooperatives 8 1/2 months to audit their books and issue dividends. Many other cooperatives assumed they had the same privilege.

Rumbel said the 75-day deadline was unreasonable, and added that the ruling would have been retroactive to 1951. A survey of 12 regional organizations showed tax and interest payment of more than $22 million would be due.

"Many of our finest cooperatives would have been absolutely extinguished. Many others would have been forced to go through bankruptcy," Rumbel said.

Met With Nixon

Appeals to the commissioner were unanswered until several Republican senators sought out the vice president.

The senators and Rumbel met with the vice president and explained the situation and the ruling was changed to give the non-exempt cooperatives the 8 1/2-month extension.

But, Rumbel said, there is still a threat. "I fear that in 1961 congress will try to do something about clarifying taxes on cooperatives. If vicious, unfair legislation is proposed we must be ready to fight."

Rumbel said farmers need strong cooperatives to speak for them, and cited the decline in the farm population. Since 1920, he said, farmers have dropped from 30 per cent to 13 per cent of the population.

The all-day meeting was opened by Art Murphy, Chil-ton, president. Lester Black-geon Bay.

Du Charme Terms Suit Brought by Scanlon 'Political Harassment'

City Administration Preparing Reply to Litigation; Hits at 'Unnecessary Delay'

Menasha — Mayor R. G. Du Charme today termed the taxpayer's suit brought by former Mayor John R. Scanlon against the city for selling land to First National Bank of Menasha "political harassment."

The suit, filed Monday in Winnebago county circuit court, blocks sale of Racine street park, site of the old high school until March, 1936. The bank's directors wanted the land for a new bank building and shopping center development.

Scanlon The city was to complete Du Charme the land deal Friday, receiving $57,000 for the 2.5 acres of commercially zoned land and the city receiving the present bank building at a price of $49,500, or $7,500 net cash difference.

'Unnecessary Delay' The full statement by the mayor follows: "The summons and complaint by John R. Scanlon have been turned over to the city attorney who will follow the necessary legal procedures."

"It is unfortunate that this political harassment will result in unnecessary delay in further development of our commercial area. We must constantly expand our tax base by commercial and industrial development to less the burden of increasing government costs on the existing taxpayers."

"The charge of a conspiracy is a vicious falsehood as everyone in the community knows of my reputation for honesty and integrity, best demonstrated by my 35 enjoyable years as an instructor of the youth of our city and my four years as mayor."

"The only conspiracy is between my political opponents who are attempting to smear my personal reputation and record of good government."

No Warranty Deed Possible The litigation prevents the mayor and City Clerk Ira Clough from executing the warranty deed on the land as required in the Feb. 16 sale resolution approved by a 6-4 common council vote. (That type of deed warrants to a purchaser that title is clear of all encumbrances.)

The suit seeks to block the land sale to the bank and accompanying purchase of the bank building. "Unlawful conspiracy" and "clear abuse of discretion" on the part of city and bank officials are charged in the court action.

Scanlon contends the market value of the lots is considerably above $57,000 and that the bank building is practically worthless for a city office, requiring extensive remodeling before being usable. He further charges no planning commission recommendations were given, as required in the statutes, on the land sale and purchase of the bank building.

Sen. Humphrey Urges No Strong Arm Toward Cuba; Hits Red China

Oshkosh — Talking to an overflow crowd at the Oshkosh State college Little Theater Monday afternoon, Sen. Hubert Humphrey, Democratic presidential aspirant, spoke out against recognition of Red China and against lifting a strong arm toward Cuba.

He was critical of President Eisenhower's "patience and reluctance to act on the Cuban situation" and suggested beaming the Voice of America at Cuba, following this with a program of education and economic development.

"We must never lift a strong arm toward Cuba. Disciplining by the United States will be called imperialism by the communists. This is a case for the world court, but in this case the Connolly reservation in not submitting the question to the court is being utilized by Castro."

"Force would only lose all from the Neenah public and parochial schools at 2:30 in the afternoon to learn about the school curriculum. The final period of the school day will be devoted to a discussion on the selection of courses and the various subjects offered. Parents of the eighth grade pupils will be guests at a school Thursday night for a discussion of the school testing and curriculum programs."

Don Quinn pointed out some facts about the Kelvinator washer to readers today. He said it gets clothes cleaner because of the new Deep Turbulent washing action. It gets clothes cleaner than tumble-type washers and safer than harsh agitator action. It keeps turning clothes over and over as it circulates them around and around in one direction. Meanwhile, thousands of jets of sudsy water penetrate each fiber to get out ground-in dirt.

The dealer added that it is really safe for fine fabrics. No more need to hand-wash anything. Finest lingerie.

He stressed the automatic pre- scrub cycle which pre-treats clothes with a small amount of water and the full amount of detergent before regular washing starts. This loosens all dirt, grease and grime so it is easily removed in the regular wash cycle.

Kelvinator is so simple in design, so sturdily built, that customers have fewer service worries, Quinn said. And behind every appliance sold, the reputation of a reliable dealer, he added.

More Parental Help in Counseling Needed

School Superintendent Tells Kiwanians Ability Tests Supplement Study Advice

Menasha — Mathematical ability tests to be given Eighth graders will allow high school guidance counselors to direct talented children into more difficult studies.

That is the view of Marvin Gegan, superintendent of the senior-junior high schools, who told the Kiwanis club Monday night that the testing program, planned to be expanded to other subjects, has been established because of the lack of counseling cooperation by parents.

He explained the Northwestern university curriculum survey and emphasized that the public must play an active part in implementing any recommendations in the study.

Publicity Needed

Publicity must play a big part in any program change, he said, and the public must be informed of the excellence of the present program. He complimented the press in its coverage of the survey itself.

Gegan took exception to the misunderstanding of the teacher-pupil ratio. Much publicity has been given, he said, to the simplest and least accurate formula of dividing the total school staff—including non-teaching administrators and special service personnel—by the total enrollment to give a misleading 22 pupils to a teacher ratio.

The North Central Association of Secondary Schools and College formula takes into consideration these non-teaching staff members in its "full cation decisions must be given the widest publicity.

Recommendations of the survey, he said, indicate an increase in costs of from 10 to 20 per cent over the increase caused by rising enrollment.

Poetry, Poster Winners Named

Menasha — Poetry contest winners of St. John school were James Long, Christine Omachinski and Marilyn Magalski, first to third.

Poster contest winners in grades 7 and 8 were Susan Schmidt and Patricia Garrigan, tied for first place; Richard Schuch, second; and James Long, third.

Intermediate grade winners were Ira Collar, first; Diane Dachelet, second; Kathleen Gajewski, third; and David Wagner, fourth. Winners in the primary grades were Cheryl Draeger, first; Linda Montonati, second; Billy Weisgerber, third; and Patricia Hallada, fourth.

The poems and posters were in connection with the March theme of vocations — to the single, married, religious and priest's lives.

70 to Represent MHS at Festival

Menasha — Seventy entries will represent Menasha High school Saturday at the Fox Valley-Lake Shore Music festival at Green Bay East High school.

The school will be represented by 49 solo entries—21 brass, 24 woodwind, 2 percussion and 2 baton.

One percussion ensemble, 8 brass and 12 woodwinds will complete the entrants.

The band will play "Coat of Arms," concert march by George Kenny; "Psalm for Band" by Vincent Persichetti; and "Chester," a band overture by William Schumann.

Girl Fined $10 for Inattentive Driving

Menasha — Janet H. Woyak, 18, route 4, Appleton, pleaded guilty Monday of inattentive driving and was fined $10 by Police Justice Arthur J. Ales.

Miss Woyak's car Sunday afternoon struck the rear of one driven by Theodore M. McArty, 30, 973 Eighth street, complained of a stiff neck after the accident. The McArty car was pushed into the one ahead, operated by Mrs. Peter Traas, Jr., 749 Congress place, Neenah.

Cars driven by Robert L. Porter, 38, 208 Water street, and Eugene P. Kluck, 32, 428 First, Second, Fourth, Sixth, Broad street, collided at Main and Mill streets about 2:10 a.m. Saturday.

Neenah Seniors Get Letters From Foster Children

Neenah — Senior students at Neenah High school have received thank you letters from the two foreign foster children they are sponsoring, Choi Soon Nam in Korea and George Stamatiadis of Greece. The school has sent in $180 a year for each child from projects it has sponsored.

Part of this money goes directly to the family and the balance goes toward expenses for the family.

George wrote that his mother bought some trousers and food from the money the family received. He wrote that his school building is nice and that he is in good health. He also told of a river and an aqueduct near his home.

The young Korean girl bought a school bag and sweater with the money her family received. The new school bag, and having so many foster parents, the entire senior class, has made her the envy of the others in the school.

She will be a fifth grader in April and wrote also that spring soon would be there. The letter was written in February.

State Hospital Union Plans Easter Party

Members of the Wisconsin State Employees' association, Local 48, Winnebago state hospital, and their children will have an Easter party from 2 to 4 p.m. April 9 at the Wisconsin Axle clubhouse, Oshkosh.

About 230 members and 69 children are expected to attend. An Oshkosh music store will provide entertainment and children will be given Easter baskets.

Snyder Named by Folding Box Group

Neenah — Donald A. Snyder, a vice president of Marathon division of American Can company, and Randall Ross, senior vice president of Cornell Paperboard Products company, a division of St. Regis Paper company, have been named directors at large of the Folding Paper Box association. The association met at Los Angeles recently.

Rubbish Collection

Neenah — Rubbish will be collected Wednesday in the First, Second, Fourth, Sixth, Seventh and Ninth wards. Non-burnable rubbish should be on the curb by 7 a.m.

Thaw, Children Make Problems For City Crews

Seventeenth Street Flooded as Result Of Dam in Culvert

Kaukauna — Children playing in drainage ditches and other areas during the Sunday thaw resulted in problems for city crews as youngsters followed the natural tendency to try to dam up running water, according to Robert Natrop, city engineer.

He asked parents to cooperate by warning children of the danger in building dams in drainage ravines or covering catch basins. Over two feet of water backed up over Seventeenth street and police were forced to reroute traffic as a result of children blocking a culvert on that street, according to the engineer.

Block Off Culvert

Using old boards the children blocked off the culvert causing a regular lake to back up in the area, holding draining water back for at least six blocks and on into the town of Buchanan. The water rose rapidly and the children were unable to free the boards. Luckily the street was not washed out, according to the engineer.

Back-up water was too deep for city crews to wade even with hip boots and they were forced to use long pole poles to remove the boards and permit proper drainage. This back-up water causes flooding conditions in some low areas and is a hazard to younger children, warned the engineer.

Plugging catch basins is equally dangerous as it causes water to undermine the road, is a hazard for motorists and causes large patches of ice on the road when freezing starts after nightfall, continued Natrop.

He also warned owners of low lots in the city to ditch the areas to permit runoff, thus preventing possibility of a drowning as these ponds are attractive to youngsters.

Further Plans To be Made for 50-Year Events

Kimberly — The planning committee for the fiftieth year celebration to be held from July 31 through Aug. 6 will meet at 7:45 p.m. Wednesday in the board rooms to discuss preliminary plans for the week's activities.

An organizational meeting was held earlier this month at which Paul Lochschmidt, general chairman, appointed committee chairmen and outlined responsibilities.

Preliminary reports will be given at this meeting as to assistants named and special activities contemplated. It is hoped some special attraction will be lined up each night during the week.

Kimberly was incorporated as a village in 1910, thus the special celebration is being planned. Gov. Gaylord Nelson will speak on Aug. 6 to climax a huge parade, the only definite thing scheduled to date.

KRA Splits In Final Mail Archery Shoots

Kimberly — In the final two mail matches of the season, the Kimberly Recreation association archers split by beating Jefferson and losing to Fond du Lac.

In the victory the KRA scored 3,028 points to 2,847 for Jefferson. The Fond du Lac match was lost by a narrow 3,020 to 2,996 score.

Individual scores over Jefferson were Ken Bodway, 766; Don Bodway, 754; Jerry Johnson, 754 and Tony Eckes, Sr., 752.

Counts against Fond du Lac included Johnson, 768; Don Bodway, 754; Ken Bodway, 738 and Della Grimm, 736.

Four archers have been named to the KRA team which will compete in the shoulder to shoulder match at Waupaca on April 9. They are Ken Bodway, Eckes, Johnson and Norbert Ohm. Don Bodway is the alternate.

Marquette Coach Guest Speaker for Thursday's Program

Kimberly — Lyle Blackburn, head football coach at Marquette university, will be speaker for the annual Kimberly Recreation association sponsored dinner to honor varsity athletes at Kimberly High school at 6:30 p.m. Thursday in the school gym.

Open to the public, the event will give fans the opportunity to meet varsity members of the football, basketball, track, baseball and tennis teams. Serving as master of ceremonies will be Bob Lloyd.

Ray Schwanke, Norbert Van Dyke and Wayne Kildonk are heading up arrangements for the affair assisted by other members of the KRA board of directors. Tickets are being sold at the high school office and at the Kimberly-Clark clubhouse, pharmacy, bowling alleys and restaurant in the community.

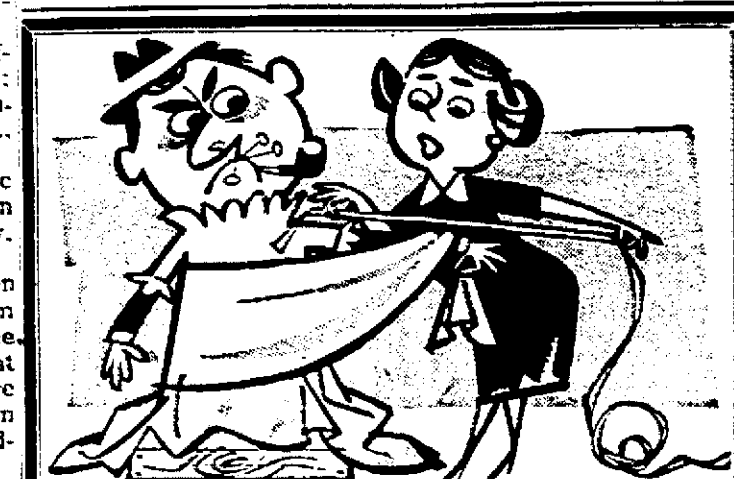

Tickets are to be purchased in advance to permit proper planning for the affair.

City Cage Loop Play-Off Game To be Wednesday

Kaukauna — After a week of delay due to basketball tournaments and other activities at Kaukauna High school gym, the City league will resume competition with a play-off game at 7 p.m. Wednesday.

The contest between Arnie's Bar and Krueger's Furniture will have double importance for the latter. The two tied for second half honors with 6-1 records while Kruegers won the first half crown.

If Kruegers win that team will be classed as city champs for the season but should it lose, a play-off game for the overall crown will be held at 7 p.m. Thursday, according to James Gertz, league director.

Months of Nights at Home, making wedding plans, compiling the guest list and writing out invitations precede that very important day. However, the young couple will find many helping hands at its command to help keep things going smoothly.

Consult Printer, Order Invitations As Soon as Possible

Although wedding invitations are sent out by the parents of the bride, the bridegroom's family should be consulted on whom should be included on the wedding list.

Invitations should be mailed from three to four weeks before the ceremony.

Do not remove the tissue which covers the invitation, enclosure cards or announcements as printer's ink rubs off easily and the tissue insures the invitation being received in perfect condition.

For the formal invitation, two envelopes are used. The inner envelope contains invitation and enclosure cards and is not sealed. It carries only the name of the person or persons to whom it is sent, as "Mr. and Mrs. John Smith." This envelope is inserted in the outer one with the name facing the flap for easy reading when removed.

The outer envelope carries the full name and address, with no abbreviations except "Mr. and Mrs." Each grown person should receive a separate invitation. When expense must be considered, it is correct to address the inner envelope: "Mr. and Mrs. John Smith" with "Miss Marion Smith" underneath.

An invitation may be addressed to two sons, with both envelopes addressed to "The Messrs."

'And Family'

On the outer envelope "and family" should never be used, although this is sometimes done on the inner envelope when the family is a large one.

The engraved forms of wedding invitations and announcements are almost unchangeably fixed as to style and wording. Correct invitations to a wedding always are engraved on the first page of a double sheet of ivory or white paper, either plain or with a raised margin called a plate mark.

Some invitations to a wedding do not include a reception invitation, which means the guest is invited only to the church. In some instances, if the church or wedding is small, close friends and family receive a wedding invitation plus a reception invitation and the greater portion of guests receive only an invitation to the reception. When the number of guests invited to the ceremony is greater

Second Rite Should be Informal

Small informal ceremonies are recommended as the best taste for weddings in which the bride is a widow or a divorcee.

Neither a widowed nor a divorced bride should wear white or a wedding veil. She should choose either a dinner, cocktail or dressy afternoon frock, small hat, gloves and a small, hand bouquet or a corsage.

If the bride is a widow, a child by her former marriage may take part in the ceremony, but this rule doesn't hold true for a divorcee.

The reception may be as large as the newlyweds desire but no showers can be held in honor of the second-time bride. Friends who sent gifts for the first wedding shouldn't be expected to give again.

The former marital status of the bridegroom doesn't affect the type of ceremony being planned. If the bride has never been married, she may plan a large, formal wedding although her husband-to-be is divorced or widowed.

than those invited to the reception, two cards must be sent with the smaller reception card enclosed in the wedding invitation.

'The Honour'

The invitation to the church should always request "the honour"—spelled with a "u"—of your "presence" and never the "pleasure" of your "company." It is the reception card that requests "the pleasure of your company."

Ordering of invitations and announcements should be done as soon as the date is set and the place established. The bride and her mother should visit the printers and get a book of different types of paper and engraving.

The book of samples will display the proper invitation form and a variety of engraving. Invitations and announcements should be worded in the third person and acceptance or regrets must be worded the same.

successful wedding, no matter what the cost, represents many compromises. There are many areas of agreement to be reached between all the parties concerned and the young bride will find many helping hands at her command to help keep things going smoothly. # Practical Bride Chooses Silver for Present, Future Wedding consultants advise that selection of china and silver be made at least two months before the wedding. Some recommend that silver be chosen first. Others advise selecting the china first, so that the silver may serve as a frame for the setting.

In either case, the same china and silver used by the bride or her first real dinner party will probably be the same as the setting for her parties years away. Therefore, selection should be made carefully with a look to the future at the type of entertaining the young people will do.

Patterns in silver run from the severely modern to the ornate with intricate ornamentation. Jewelers say the ornate silver is again coming back into vogue after years of severely simple patterns being most popular.

Be sure to check the larger serving pieces of silver to be sure the pattern design is as harmonious with your china and glassware as are the smaller pieces. There are both heavy weight patterns and medium weight, but naturally, the heavier variety is the more expensive.

Starting Set
Eight place settings are advised for the starting set. Since the bride may register silver patterns at local stores, duplications can be avoided. It is advisable to select the basic pieces, with many of the serving and decorative pieces coming as wedding gifts. Part of the wedding checks also might be set aside for the silver set.

There is no point in keeping silver treasures under lock and key, experts advise. Silver is nearly indestructible. From a practical point of view, they say, the more it is used, the less it will have to be polished.

Fine china, like silver, comes in a variety of patterns with both modern and traditional motifs. Quality and price of china is determined by the decoration, its styling, thickness and glazing.

Translucency
To distinguish between china and other pieces of dinnerware, hold a plate up to the light to check translucency. You should be able to see the shadow of your hand behind china. When tapped hard with a pencil, china will have a clear bell-like ring.

The newlyweds may want to select from the large store of pottery or earthenware patterns for informal dining. Vibrant colors and geometric designs are available with some 16-piece starter sets priced as low as $8.

Many gold and silver rimmed plates are seen this year, sometimes with a plain center or a delicate design in china and porcelain.

Beautiful glassware completes the picture frame for your table settings. Of major importance is the appropriateness of the glassware to the type of dishes and silver selected.

Crystal differs from ordinary glassware in its lead content, which adds a metallic sheen and brilliance to its appearance. Consultants advise selecting shapes and sizes of glasses which will do double duty rather than a large variety.

When shopping for glasses, check them for clarity and luster. Be sure they do not contain bubbles or a cloudy bluish tinge. Edges should be smooth and regular. The clean musical tone of good blown glass when tapped with your fingernail tells its quality. This is the lightest, clearest and thinnest of glassware. Because of the detailed work in its creation it is more expensive.

It is wise to buy medium-stemmed goblets, which will serve many occasions. Long-stemmed goblets are the most formal. If etched, even the smallest details on the glassware should be clearly outlined.

Select inexpensive glassware, tumblers and fruit juice glasses for every day use with pottery or earthenware dishes.

Giving Away Bride Signifies Approval

In early times the bride was considered as a chattel to be given the bridegroom by her parents, who arranged the match.

Today the father symbolically gives his daughter away to signify his approval of the marriage.

Old Shoes

The early Hebrews gave a sandal as evidence of good faith in exchanging property. Casting a shoe after the bride signified the father's transfer of authority to the husband.

Etiquette Rules Guide Day's Success

There is always a best way of doing everything, if it be only to boil an egg. Manners are the happy ways of doing things.

Your wedding will be easier to arrange if you know the proper things to do. The etiquette of weddings has evolved over the years as a guide to help you run things smoothly.

When a couple has become engaged, whose parents make the first call? The boy's parents should visit the girl's as soon as the couple has decided to marry and before public announcement of an engagement. If distance prevents the conventional visit, the boy's mother should write a note of welcome to her son's fiancée.

When do you send wedding gifts? Usually before the wedding to the bride's home. Try to avoid bringing gifts to the reception. Is it correct to exchange duplicate gifts? Yes.

Return Gifts? Are gifts returned if the wedding is called off? Yes. Write a note explaining. Are identity cards put out with presents on display? No. How can gifts be shown if there is no home reception? Have close friends to a tea or cocktail party a few days before the wedding.

Are gifts sent for a second marriage? They are not required although you may wish to send one if you did not know the bride at the time of the first marriage. Who gives the clergyman his fee? The bridegroom pays, giving the money to the best man who presents it in a plain envelope.

What does the maid of honor do? She holds the bride's bouquet at the ceremony, adjusts her dress and train and is responsible for the bridegroom's ring.

What are the bridesmaids' expenses? They buy their own dresses, pay for transportation to and from the wedding and buy a gift for the bride.

Who Buys Flowers? What flowers does the bridegroom buy? The bride orders and the bridegroom pays for ushers' boutonnieres, corsages for the mothers, the bride's bouquet and corsage. The bride pays for bridesmaids' flowers and church arrangements.

Who pays for the wedding and reception? The bride's parents. How can you arrange a ceremony in a church with two aisles? Use only one aisle for the whole wedding or use the right hand aisle for the processional and the left for the recessional.

Are divorced parents of the bride seated together in the church? No. The mother sits in the front right hand pew, the father in the third. Is any guest seated after the bride's mother? No. She is escorted to her place just before the wedding procession begins.

Aisle Runners If a white aisle runner is used, when is it laid? Usually after the bride's mother is seated. If there are two runners laid in advance, the soiled covering is removed after the bride's mother is seated. May the bride and bridegroom smoke or drink in the reception line? Properly, no. The bride may ask for a sip of water or punch but should not stand with glass in hand.

Do the ushers and best man stand in the receiving line? No. The fathers may or may not. Usually they do for a time before mingling with the guests. Is the clergyman invited to the reception? Yes, with his wife. He sits at the parents' table if it is separate from the wedding party.

Who proposes the first toast to the bride? The best man. May a divorcee have a church wedding? If her church permits. However, she should never wear white or a veil.

Who leaves the ceremony first after the newlyweds? Ushers escort the parents of the bride and the bridegroom out first, then others in the immediate family. Then other guests may leave.

Ideas for Showers Unlimited

A stack of beribboned packages, promising welcome gifts for the new home.

A group of friends to share the fun.

Lots of helpful and funny advice on setting out in married life.

That's the way it is at a bridal shower, one of the most pleasant events for a bride-to-be.

It's great to be on the receiving end of a shower. But planning one can also be a lot of fun. Ideas are limitless.

Although generally considered to be all-feminine affairs, certain showers offer perfect occasions for the bridegroom and his friends to share in the party too.

Mixed parties might center around a cocktail time shower for which guests bring such gifts as glasses, shakers, napkins, coasters, ash trays and snack dishes.

Garden Shower A green thumb shower can give a couple about to move into a new home a good start in garden tools, bulbs, plant holders, flower containers and shrubs.

If the to-be-weds are hobbyists, plan a joint shower on that theme with gifts for what ever the pastime is—photography, art, outdoor cookery, crafts.

The hostess might give a package shower, in which each guest helps buy either a single big gift or a set of related presents. This might mean a single important appliance or matched linens and towels.

How about a kitchen shower? Gifts can be pots, pans, small appliances, dishes, cookbooks, knives, can openers, casseroles.

A pantry shelf shower? Bring canned goods, spices, seasonings, canisters, utensils.

Mops and Brooms Clean up shower? Mops, brooms, waxes, aprons, cleaning materials.

Bathroom shower? Towels, wastebaskets, bathmats, tissue holder.

Glamor shower? Personal lingerie, makeup aids, toiletries.

A different type of shower provides the couple with sparetime occupation—photograph albums, records, books, games, writing materials.

How to entertain shower guests? There are many special games to play—you'll find them in any party book at your library. Or chances are, a congenial group will entertain itself.

Cooking With Wine Gives Zest to Meals Inexpensive domestic wine used properly, can glamorize a simple meal or fish dish, and make more appealing meats like kidneys and liver which otherwise might be ignored.

Men are Not Ignored in the wedding party, even if they sometimes think so, and correct grooming is important. Formal full dress is the rule for after-6 weddings. Black lightweight mohair is a good fabric choice for that important day.

Plan Press Notices Early

Your press notices are fun to see. Make sure you get the good news of your engagement and wedding to the newspapers.

How? It's not hard. Newspapers want your announcement. But do it right.

Type the information double spaced and send it to the society editor of your local paper, along with a glossy print photograph.

If you do not want the notice published before a certain date include a note to that effect.

Wedding stories and photographs should be sent in at least four days in advance of the ceremony.

Include the names of bride and groom and their parents, living or deceased, with home towns.

Give college affiliations, club memberships, employer.

Describe briefly names of all the wedding party and where they are from; destination of the wedding trip, address of new home.

Include your telephone number in case additional information is needed. If your family is prominent include details of any announcement parties you have given.

Before newspaper publication of your engagement, write notes to close relatives and friends, telling them the news.

If you have a commercial photographer he will send in the picture of you. A good time to pose for these is when you have the final fitting of your gown.

these recipes for truly festive fare:

Summer scallops in white wine

Bake fillets of flounder in dry white wine, and when baking is done, add 2 egg yolks mixed with a little heavy cream, for a thick but gentle sauce.

Madeira wine and mushrooms enhance finely-minced spinach.

Dry red wine added to sautéed veal kidneys is fit for a king.

A sauce for lamb—or veal chops—is made of white wine and a little tomato paste.

Lobster enjoys a sherry-flavored sauce, shrimp too.

Package Trip Saves Dollars

Want to stretch those honey-moon dollars?
There are two big ways to do it: Go in the off season and buy a package travel plan.
For example, ship fares to Europe drop 20 per cent between September and December. This means first class accommodations will cost only $792 for one against the regular season fare of $1,177.
You may know already that buying round trip tickets means a substantial saving over one-way fares—up to 17 per cent by rail and 10 per cent by air.
But you may not be aware of the cost advantages in package plans offered through travel agencies.
Giveaway Bags
These have a single price for a certain number of days, covering transportation, lodging and sometimes meals and tips. On some tropical trips you get free suntan lotion; virtually all airlines give away plastic travel bags.
Travel agencies say that experienced travelers who make extended trips on their own spend an average of 20 per cent more than people in a group plan.

Name Is Information
Mrs. John Mason is used without abbreviation on visiting cards, informal cards and formal invitations. It is also signed on a hotel register, as information.
For the same reason the formal name—Mrs. John Mason—is listed on committees, for charge accounts and mailing.
In business letters she will place (Mrs. John Mason) under her signature of Sally Brown Mason so that the recipient will know how to address a reply.
But in no circumstance does she sign her name on any kind of letter as Mrs. John Mason or Mrs. Sally Ann Brown Mason.
Legal Documents
As essential as knowing how to sign the new name is arranging to make the big change on all legal documents and identity cards.
At the earliest possible moment you must take care of listing the proper name on your social security card, driver's license, bank account, insurance, hospitalization, library card, stocks and bonds.
Some of these you may be holding jointly with your husband. Others may require changing of a beneficiary.
In any case, plan to take care of these important matters so they don't mean a last minute stumbling block.

Pre-Marital Advising Insures Happy, Successful Marriage

BY NORMA GAUHN

John and Mary bowl well together. They both like the same kind of toothpaste. And they enjoy an evening watching television without too much bickering over programs.

But if there's one thing that sets John's teeth on edge, it's Mary's family. It's not anything specific; he just feels left out whenever he's with them. They have a lot of fun together and Mary seems to forget he's around when they're at her house.

There's a gnawing worry on Mary's mind. John apparently has no regard for how and when he spends money. Even if he's low on cash, he thinks nothing of spending all he has on an expensive evening of dining and wining. She had hoped to quit her job shortly after they got married. But John has said nothing about it and her pay is needed to help meet the rent on the costly apartment he insisted they live in.

Neither has mentioned either of these problems to the other. And Ernest Osborne of Columbia university sees here the germs of trouble in their married life. Osborne is professor of education in Columbia Teachers college department of home and family life.

Spot Irritations Early
"You can't ignore possible problems before marriage," he says. "That's the time you can iron out little troubles before they mushroom into big resentments. If you don't talk things over and try to find out the other person's feelings and attitudes, the first spat can develop into a major blowup."

Osborne says there is an over-romanticized feeling to come up afterwards to upset a marriage.

"Money matters, for example. It isn't hard to budget wisely. But sticking to the budget involves the individual's whole background. A man who had little money as a child may take the reverse tack as an adult and spend it like water—or he may be a skinflint."

"But his wife has to realize why he acts as he does and plan to meet the problem from his standpoint. 'If a girl turns to her mother in major decisions, it's a warning signal to her fiancé. He should try to provide, the feeling of security she finds in her family. In any event, he should talk it over with her so they'll both recognize the situation exists and understand it better.'"

Guard Against Infatuation
Osborne feels that marriage courses in schools could

Osborne's recommendation is pre-marital counseling as a valuable insurance policy for a successful marriage.

Counseling Helpful
"It won't change an engaged couple's mind about getting married because of the powerful emotional factors involved," the professor smiles. "But it can alert them to the things that can "act as inoculation against infection by infatuation." They would develop realistic ideas about marriage before a person becomes emotionally entangled.

"There's no doubt of the higher divorce rate among young marriages," the professor says. "One reason is they don't get enough varied companionship before settling down to the married grind."

Osborne emphasizes the need for couples to prepare for marriage with frank discussion of their feelings toward religion, children, money and respective families.

"It's much harder to calm things down after irritations set in," he says. "That's when a couple fights, wrangles, undercuts each other and winds up pushing the knife in and turning it."

Flowers, Organza Star in Spring's Wedding Dresses

Picking a wedding gown for that special day is one of the bride's most pleasant tasks and many long hours go into that assignment.

This year's spring and summer brides can't go wrong in their selection of a gown for the honored day. Fashion designers leave the choice of wedding styles up to the bride, and the bride who prefers to abide by long-standing tradition in gown styling will not be alone. She can pick from a multitude of traditional modes and not be out of vogue.

Brides in 1960 can look demure, smart, sweet or sophisticated. There are as many opinions about wedding and bridal attire as there are brides to voice them. Today's brides are more interested in becomingness than in the latest fashion innovations.

Favor White
The favorite color for a wedding dress is white or off-white. However, touches of pale color under layers of tulle or nylon sheer are the choices of many young brides. The color then is picked up in a bolder tone in the attendants' dresses, accenting the bride's costume. The gentle pastels enhance rather than detract from the wedding's beauty.

Although this year's weddings are more formal than ever before, the long wedding gowns have a "little-girl" look of sweetness. Embroidered nylon tulle, always a favorite for spring and summer weddings, is being accented with petal-like lace or fashioned into distinct pleats.

Organdy and organza are popular for summer wear and lace and peau de soie star all year around. Silk organza is being interpreted in a wide variety of styles for the spring, and crush-pleated nylon tulle fashions into a dream fantasy for that very special day.

Simple elegance in a dress is very popular. Embroidery and fine lace are favorite forms of trimming with a minimum of jeweled embroidery.

Short bell sleeves seem to be getting the nod this year and enhance the feminine and little girl appearance. Sheath wedding gowns for spring are fashioned in delicate lace reaching to the floor, with the added complement of a floating panel or train of silk organza, peau de soie or nylon sheer.

Spring flowers adorn the sweetly feminine gowns in embroidered sprays and petals around the neck line or in tiers at the hemline, emphasizing a fresh spring-like look.

Lace Headpieces
Beautiful laces grace the traditional wedding dresses and headpieces in tunic overskirts and bodices or in delicate trim and hemline borders. Lace also is a favorite in the small caps and headpieces which secure the bride's veil. Tulle and nylon sheer are the most common materials used in veils.

The headress preferred by the 1960 bride again has one requisite—that it is becoming. Small headresses are preferred and elbow or wrist length veils also get the nod from the modern bride.

The Sabrina neckline for spring wear has gained in popularity and has overshadowed the scoop. However, the scooped neck, portrait neckline and bateau neckline remain favorites. The huge, gathered bell-shaped skirt is featured more than the princess silhouette, but most brides prefer a flat front panel.

The floor length gown is preferred in spring styles, with sweeps and chapel trains next. Ballerina length dresses account for only a small percentage of gowns purchased. Short gowns are most popular with attendants and have the added advantage of being appropriate for wear to summer dances and cocktail parties.

The trend in bridesmaid apparel is simplicity. A strong argument in that direction is that it focuses more attention on the bride. Brides who want to please their atten-

Marriage Maybe Heaven Made But Reception Takes Planning

The reception is the traditional festive climax to the wedding. Following the solemn marriage ceremony the theme should be one of gaiety.

However, beautiful and appropriate wedding receptions don't just happen—they are the result of weeks of careful planning. Reserving the club or the hotel for the reception is one of the first things on the calendar of the bride-to-be after actually setting the date. The choice of setting for the wedding reception depends to a great extent on the estimated number of guests.

The type of wedding ceremony—formal, semi-formal or informal—need not determine the size of the reception. A large reception—quite properly can follow an informal ceremony and a simple reception can be held in conjunction with a formal wedding.

Primarily, the reception is an occasion for the bride and groom to greet friends and relatives and for the guests in turn to wish the newly-married couple happiness, hence the reception is built around the traditional receiving line.

Floral Decor

Usually standing before a floral background, the receiving line begins with the mother of the bride as hostess, the mother and father of the bridegroom, the bride and bridegroom, the maid of honor or and then the bridesmaids. The father of the bride may stand between the two mothers or he may move about, acting as host, among the guests. Guests unknown to the bride's mother introduce themselves and she in turn introduces them to the mother.

Position of Pan Alters Cake Result

The quality of a freshly baked cake is affected by height of the oven shelf and whether the pans are metal or glass. Shiny tin or aluminum cake pans should be on a rack close to the oven floor. Cast iron or glass pans take longer to heat but retain it longer. So place them on a middle rack to avoid excess browning of the cake bottom.

Thank You

It is a gracious gesture for the bride-to-be, busy as she is, to write a short note of thanks to hostesses who entertain for her at showers.

First Slice

To cut the first slice of wedding cake the bride and bridegroom together take the be-ribboned cake knife and slice through the lower layer of a tiered cake. The couple shares the first piece and the bride then cuts several more for members of the wedding party and parents. Someone else then completes the cutting and distributes the cake to guests.

A white cake recipe is used for the wedding cake, and round or square, it is decorated with flowers or spun sugar and other embellishments.

Reception Music

Not essential at a wedding reception but a worthwhile added attraction is music. A string orchestra often is engaged for afternoon receptions. The bride decides on the selections. If a dance is held, the bride and her husband dance the first dance together and while the bride dances with her father, the bridegroom chooses her mother. Then the entire wedding party joins the dancers and finally the guests take the floor.

The bridal pair may leave for the honeymoon any time after the cake is cut. If there is dancing, they may leave after the first dance is completed. One wedding tradition usually observed is the tossing of the bridal bouquet. Legend says the young lady catching the flowers will be the next to marry.

A variety of caterers should be consulted before engaging one to provide the food if hotel or club does not have its own service. Charge is usually per person, requiring invited guests to reply to wedding invitations.

Menu Varieties

Most caterers have a large variety of menus suitable for receptions. Cold bouillon, chicken and eggs a la king or chicken salad and vanilla ice cream sometimes available in wedding bell shapes are suitable for an afternoon or early evening buffet. More elaborate buffet dinners often feature hot or cold turkey or beef and a variety of salads.

For a reception featuring only light refreshments, a light wine, champagne, or eggnog for a winter wedding, may be served with small sandwiches and wedding cake.

A last minute conference with the caterer, confirming the menu, number of guests and cost is wise.

Uncle Can Give Bride in Marriage

A bride's mother may give her away, if her father is not alive, but more often an uncle takes over that part of the ceremony.

Add Fruit to Roast

Canned fruits, baked for the last half hour round the roast, offer taste and color contrast. Apricots and peaches are good with lamb or veal, pineapple with ham.

New Couple Adjusts on Honeymoon

In the old days, honeymoons were simple. The groom helped his bride aboard his trusty horse and off they galloped into wedded bliss. But life now is more complicated, as any travel agent can tell you.

Plans may range from $150 a week for two at a mountain resort to a $6,000 four-week around the world flight.

No matter how much is spent, however, it is important that both the girl and her fiancé have their say on where they will go and how.

Women Flexible

Travel agents find that women are more flexible about suggested trips, while the prospective bridegroom is likely to be more demanding about specific accommodations.

Many marriage counselors strongly advocate the honeymoon as an essential time of personal adjustment for young couples and agree that any trip is good, no matter how small.

The best value are the resorts that cater to honeymooners. One price takes care of transportation, room and meals. The couple is with others the same age so they can have social life without paying extra for night club entertainment as they would do in a big city.

For young couples wanting to stretch their honeymoon dollars, there are two ways to do it: Go in the off season and buy a package travel plan. Buying round trip tickets also means a substantial saving over one way fares.

There's no need to feel you're conspicuously "touristy" when you travel on a package deal. Generally you find the service better and you actually see more sights with experienced guides than when you try a hit-or-miss, find-it-yourself journey.

Planning Ahead, Wise Buying Means Food Budget Success

The beginning cook and the amateur shopper would do well to tack on the kitchen wall a gentle reminder that says "Plan Ahead."

Food buying is serious business, and without some paperwork done in advance, both dollars and time are needlessly wasted. The last-minute shopper, who doesn't know until 5 o'clock what she will have for dinner, is all too likely to settle for something quick and easy, and likewise costly.

Menu-planning doesn't have to be as exact as an algebraic equation, but it is essential that a tentative plan for a week's menus be worked out in advance. Better-balanced meals, as well as savings, will be the result.

List first the main course for each dinner during the coming week, and build the rest of the menu around it, with an eye toward variety and color as well as flavor.

Vary Hamburger Diet

To avoid a run on hamburger, useful as that meat is, vary the meat choice with a slow-cooking veal stew, a beef-and-kidney pie, or one of the many kinds of fish that are in season.

Advance planning will save you and your husband from a constant fried diet. You'll think before you overload on chops and cutlets, the easy way out for the last-minute cook.

Supermarket meat specials can be your guide to the week's planning. Usually offered from Thursday through Saturday, they'll help you cut food costs, as well as varying your menus.

Because large cuts of meat like leg of lamb and pork loin last a couple for too many days, save these roasts for Sunday relatives and use your imagination next day in preparing a new version of the remains.

Improve Breakfast

Breakfast in your home may need some overhauling too.

There are a few die-hards who eat the same breakfast every day in the week, but they're missing out on an array of quick-baking muffins and popovers. Breakfast is a good time to take care of the day's protein requirement, whether it is the traditional bacon and eggs, or chipped beef on toast.

Once you've listed your menus and decided on the quantities of meat and vegetables you'll need for the week, check your staples to see what's in short supply. Give a thought too to the special items you'll need for dinner preparation. Do you have mushrooms for the chicken tetrazzini, raisins for the rice pudding, Worcestershire sauce for the stew? A bit of care will save you wasteful trips back and forth to the market.

Limited storage and freezer space may make it impossible for you to buy all the products you need for your week of menus. But with the help of one mid-week trip for the perishables, your marketing should be over.

Co-op Supper

If you're the entertaining type, but are restricted to a budget that's anything but elastic, you'll find the co-op supper a smart way out of your predicament.

The ingredients are easy to assemble: a few good friends, something from the refrigerator of each, and you the hostess, keeping the coffee pot filled, and the tableware alerted for a casual buffet.

You can plan this type of supper ahead of time, or dream it up at the last minute, when you're chatting over the clothesline with your next door neighbor. She's making a meat loaf, you were wondering about Spanish rice . . . well, why not join forces, and find another equally informal friend to come bring the salad? It's as easy as that.

If you do plan ahead, keep the approach just as casual, so your prospective guests won't knock themselves out preparing an elaborate dish, and thereby spoil the spontaneity of this casual get-together.

Smorgasbord
You may find the assembled food items don't always match as neatly as meat loaf and Spanish rice, but regardless of the concoction, accept it gracefully and gratefully. The party will thereby take on a smorgasbord air, and be that much more fun.

Co-op suppers can find a place in any size apartment or house. If you have no dining space, stack dishes and silverware at one end of the kitchen table. Or set up a couple of bridge tables, one for the food, one for the utensils. In fine weather, move the party to the terrace, or out under the maple tree, if you have one in your backyard.

Soap Was a Luxury

Even as late as the 14th and 15th centuries, soap was a luxury which only people of wealth could afford. Even the humblest household can be kept spotlessly clean today, due to the availability of soaps and detergents.

Expert Gives Tips for Care of Gown Before Rites

After months of exhausting effort, the great day comes—your wedding day.

Your hair is set, makeup perfect, only an hour before you set out on the march to the altar.

You get your gown from where you carefully hung it when the store delivered it two weeks ago. On it goes—and then disaster!

Ugly sunburst creases spread down from the waist, along the length of the train. There is a frantic flurry—off comes the dress, hair is mussed, there is hurried consultation on how to press out the pleats in the yards of heavy fabric.

But chances are no amount of pressing will make them disappear completely. By now, only a tailor could properly smooth out the gown.

Call for Help

The same fate faces the bride who fails to remove her gown from its box until the day of the wedding. She might not sit on the dress.

Canny Marketing Saves money and there are many guides to help the young homemaker stay within her budget. Food advertisements in newspapers are excellent tools for good food shopping and let you compare what each store is offering in quality, size of package and price. This stylish shopper wears a sheer beige wool suit with softly fitted, short-cut tab jacket with new cropped sleeves.

Delicate Handwork Raises Veil's Cost

Brides don't quibble much time to shape the headpiece—about the cost of their gowns, don't forget, it's almost like making a hat.

And, she points out, the people who do the work are skilled workers at high rates of pay.

Rules of Road Safety Apply to Cyclists, Too

BY ANGELO PATRI

Does your boy ride a bicycle? If he does do you know how he behaves on the road? Let's hope he is not the kind who thinks it great fun to ride around a car, slowing it down to a snail's pace and starting all the horns tooting. There is such a boy loose on the roads. How do you know it is not yours who is endangering his life and that of others? Better take a look. The best of boys can get into mischief, occasionally.

Has your boy a bell or a horn to signal his approach, to warn others on the road? Is it in order? Has he a light on the bike so that, in the darkness, or the fading afternoon light, he can be seen on the road? A boy who has no light on his bike can be run down by a car whose driver does not see him in the shadows.

Does your young bicyclist wear a white belt or jacket when riding in the evening? He should. The white jacket or belt enables people to see him better and is an easy way of preventing possible accidents. Why not adopt it?

No Showing Off
How about obeying the rules of the road, keeping on the side of the road he is supposed to use, not the middle, develops a fan shaped crease certainly not the wrong side, that is extremely difficult to press out. Spread the train doing tricks on their wheels but sensible lads keep those stunts for the safe playground.

Spread a clean white sheet over the car floor and seat. To avoid a rumpled look, do not sit on the dress. A bicycle is a source of joy

Money Attitudes Shape the Future

The size of a family's income doesn't determine whether there will be happiness or discord. But attitudes about money will very definitely shape the future.

According to the New Jersey Association for Mental Health, money may be a full symptom area of emotional distress, because it is such a convenient medium for acting out conscious and unconscious impulses. For this reason, the dollar sign casts a dark shadow over the mental health of many families.

Rational decisions about what to buy and how much to save are not regularly made in most families. Psychiatric knowledge indicates that far more often decisions are made on an emotional basis.

Money and emotions may very well have become intertwined in childhood. Many parents use money to manipulate their children. The pennies first, then the nickels and dimes, later the dollar bills and checks, become signs of parental acceptance or rejection, recognized or punishment. Through this childhood conditioning, attitudes toward money can be developed that make for trouble in marriage.

Use Money to Punish

The Association sketches several types of people who are using money as an expression of their deep-seated personal and inter-personal problems.

There is the husband who "wants what he wants, when he wants it," who cannot postpone immediate gratification of his desires.

There is the wife who buys too much and too often on impulse, or for whom the denial of a new dishwasher means "you don't love me any more."

There is the husband acting out a childish rivalry, who must buy a new suit every time his wife gets a new dress, or for whom keeping up with the Joneses is all-important. In other cases, the husband's limited income may result in caustic criticism from the wife about his inadequacy.

Then there is the wife who spends wastefully to punish her husband with debts, or to be dominant, or to act out her hostility toward him.

Money a subject unto itself? Not at all. Personality determines attitudes toward money. Whatever way an individual behaves and reacts toward people and life situations is the way he will react about money.

Mother's Helper

by Hermann & Pearson

It can be a source of danger if the child is not schooled in the ways of safety.

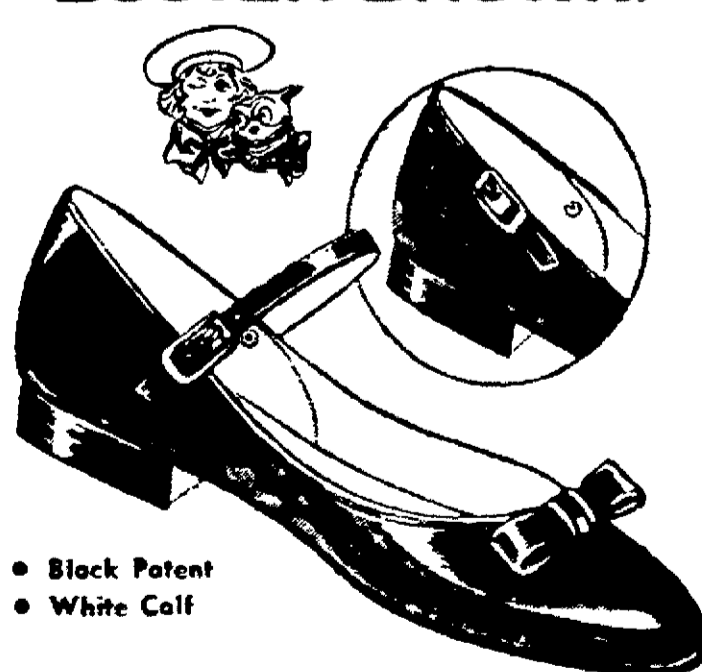

This is his father's job. Boys of the bicycle age need to have a man they know to be manly to teach them that following the rules of safety is not being "chicken."

Of course the fathers should be careful drivers themselves. A good example is worth a load of talk. I am all for the boys having bikes, but we are having too many accidents to allow the boys to go untaught and unsupervised. Teachers can help, but it is the fathers who can do most here.

Brides-to-be Enjoy Elegant Table Settings

The Young Bride Will be happy to entertain when she is able to set an attractive table for her guests. Delicate sprays of flowers are set in a wide deep green border in this elegant china. Flowers and candles add to the formal atmosphere.

What's in a hope chest? Love, lingerie and linen; cherished hopes and china; and sacrifice, savings and silver. All of them represent an investment on the part of the bride-to-be, her fiancé, her family and her friends.

As a prospective bride looks forward to years of happy marriage and devoted homemaking, choosing fine china and being able to set an attractive table are pre-requisites.

The choice of china as the ultimate in dinnerware dates back to the 12th century when the first shipment of this exquisite, thin, translucent ware arrived in Venice from the Orient. Since it reached this trading center by long and devious routes, including camel back and ship, no one knew its origin. Thus it came to be known by the name of the land from which it came—China.

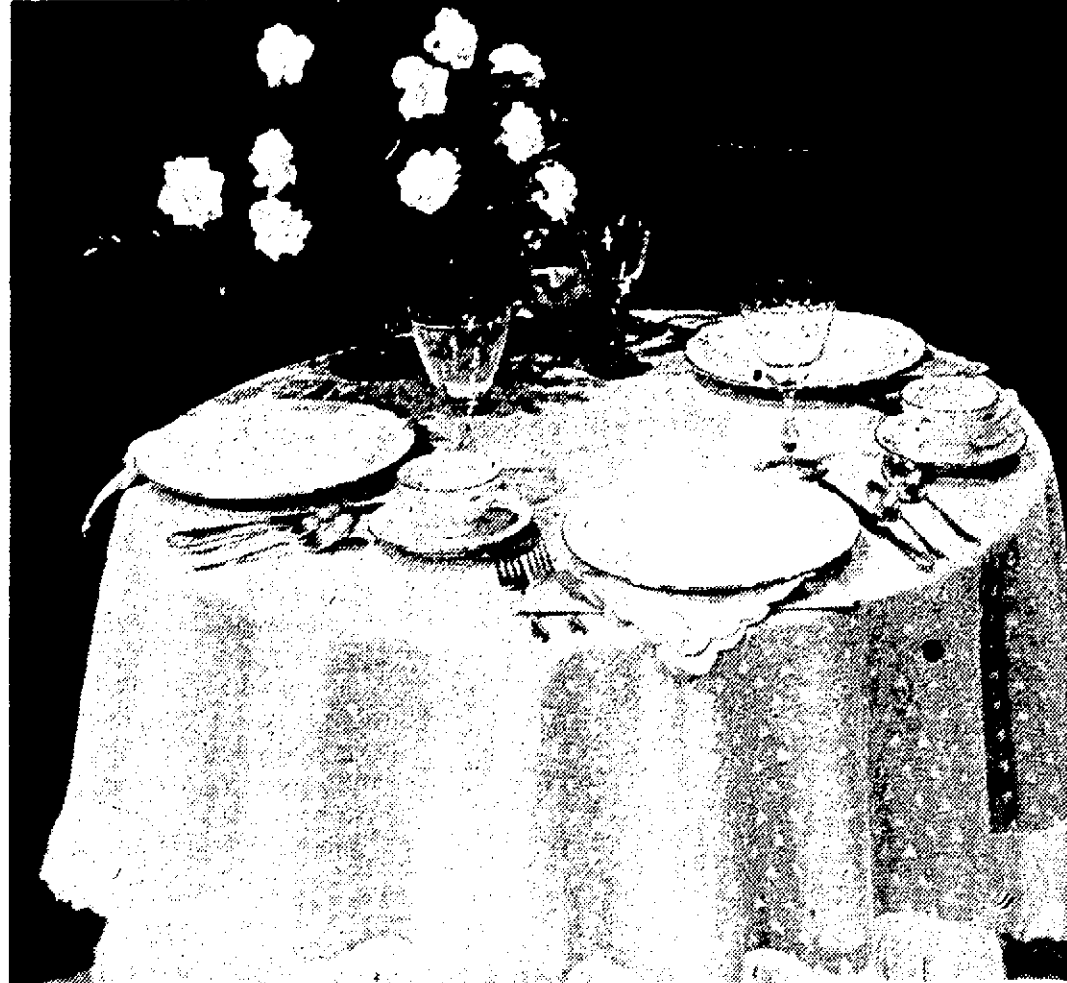

China will last a lifetime, so it is well for the bride-to-be to weigh and consider her choice carefully so that she will be as happy with it on her 50th anniversary as she is the first time she uses it.

Guided by Tastes

Her basic tastes will guide her as it does in her choice of all home furnishings. If she likes traditional decor, the more realistic dignified and restrained designs will appeal to her; if she likes modern, her interest will be around by the unusual and stylized creations.

In both categories there are formal and informal pattern. The informal traditional designs feature dainty floral patterns, in one color or a variety of soft colors. The more formal traditional china varies from the simple gold band decoration to contrasting color on rims and restrained scroll borders.

Whatever the young bride chooses, she will be happy and thrilled with it because it is her very own in her new life which is just starting.

Sprays of Gray-Blue flowers and a platinum liner form the border for this lovely china service. A flower centerpiece and tablecloth in a deeper blue make an attractive setting when company comes.

Featuring a Tiered Plum tree as centerpiece, this table arrangement will recall Old World graciousness for your guests. The china is white with tiny rosebuds, bordered with soft gold. Fitting perfectly with the hand-tatted lace tablecloth is the ornate silver.

A Mantilla Draped over a high Spanish comb and apricot carnations provide a charming centerpiece for the bride-to-be seniorita. Design in the dinnerware is pink and blue. The linen cloth in cool champagne and lace-edged napkins complete the theme.

A Lace Tablecloth Placed over blue felt sets the color scene for this French setting. An antique inkwell with pale pink roses and tapered candles provide an unusual centerpiece, graced by a pewter teapot at its side. The china is soft blue and gray.

In Good Taste First Duty To Hostess, Not Visitors

BY EMILY POST

Dear Mrs. Post: My husband and I were invited to spend last Saturday evening with some friends. Just before we left, other friends of ours who live in the suburbs, came to pay us a visit. Not wanting to see them drive back immediately, I asked them if they would like to come with us to the Joneses whom they knew, but only slightly. After assuring them they would be welcome, they accepted and came along with us. Now I may be imagining it, but it seems to me that our hostess acted rather cool all evening and I am wondering if it could be because of our having brought these other friends along. Will you please tell me if I was wrong, and if so, what I should have done under the circumstances?

Answer: Unless you had every reason to believe that the Joneses would have been glad to see the Browns, and furthermore that their presence would not have been disrupting to the evening, you should have told your unexpected visitors of your engagement, and hoped that they would come another evening. In this situation, your first duty was to the hostess whose invitation you had accepted and not to your unexpected visitors.

Mrs. Post offers readers leaflets on a variety of subjects concerning etiquette. If you would like to have her leaflet E-2, entitled "Formal Wedding Procedure," send 10 cents in coin to Dept. E.P., care of this newspaper, P.O. Box 99, Station G, New York 19, N.Y.

Your Problems Husband Must Support Family Even if He Doesn't Like It

BY ANN LANDERS

DEAR ANN: I'm in such a nervous state I can hardly keep the pen steady. Please help me. I'm 40 and I've been married 16 years. Long ago I gave up the idea of having a family. Yesterday the doctor informed me I'm pregnant.

When I told my husband he became furious. He accused me of getting this way to make him mad. He says he hates kids and insists that I place the baby in a home or with a family. He's willing to pay for the child's keep elsewhere but he doesn't want it in the house.

I'm so shocked I'm ill. When I told him I intend to keep the baby he said I'd have to get out, too. If I'd have to work to support the child and myself and be nice for her to drive me to my house then go home by myself, send for Ann Landers' booklet, "Necking and Petting—And How Far To Go," enclosing with your re-paper, as several of my bud-dies are having a similar problem.—No Wheels

Do you think this is O.K. when I can't get my car? Please put your answer in the paper, as several of my bud-dies are having a similar problem.—No Wheels

Dear No Wheels: There's something about a girl driving her own car on a date that makes a fellow look like the little brother.

Part of the boy's responsibility is to provide transportation. The girl should let him noodle it out as best he can. It's healthier for the relationship if the boy drives his own car, when he can get it; when he can't, double date, use a bus, street car, or old-fashioned shoe leather.

To learn how to keep your boy friend in line without losing him, send for Ann Landers' booklet, "Necking and Petting—And How Far To Go," enclosing with your re-paper, as several of my bud-dies are having a similar problem.—No Wheels

Heart Queen Located by Cunning

BY ALFRED SHEINWOLD

Very few bridge experts have taken up yoga to help them locate such cards as the queen of trumps. You practice certain exercises, and after a while you can read minds and understand the language of animals (very useful at the bridge table). A possible drawback is that preparation of this kind may require several lifetimes. Since this tends to slow up the game, it may pay to use low cunning as a temporary measure.

West opens the king of clubs and then shifts to the nine of spades. How do you plan the play?

You're sure to lose two clubs and a diamond. The contract depends on losing no trump tricks. How do you find out which opponent has the queen of trumps?

If you're playing against children it's very easy. You win the second trick with the king of spades and lead the jack of hearts through West. A childlike West will either cover with the queen of hearts or give himself away even if he plays a low trump.

But assume that your opponents are far too experienced to solve your problems so easily. How would you read their minds?

Encourage Ruff
Encourage an opponent to ruff. Then see if he yields. At the second trick, play the jack of spades from dummy. East covers with the queen, and you win with the king. Return a club toward dummy.

West hops up with the ace of clubs and leads another spade. Win in dummy with the ace and lead the queen of clubs as though you were trying to get an immediate discard.

If East has nothing important in trumps, he will ruff the queen of clubs. For all he can tell, this may stop you from getting a useful discard. In any case, it costs him nothing.

Play Heart Ace
You over-ruff and lay down the ace of hearts. This clarifies the trump situation. If East fails to ruff the queen of clubs, you should suspect that he has the queen of trumps.

It doesn't always work, but it's faster than all those breathing exercises.

Daily Question
Partner opens with one heart, and the next player passes. You hold: S-9 8 3, H-Q 8 7, D-A 6, C-A K J. What do you say?

Answer: Bid two clubs. You cannot raise to three hearts since you have only 3-card trump support. Show your reaching game later on.

Change of Accessories Creates New Costume

Women today are interested in making the best appearance they can without spending a great deal of money. Most get their money's worth from clothes by wearing them for a longer period of time. One good outfit, such as a suit or dress, may be worn for several years and for many occasions through changes in accessories if a little thought is given to choice and some planning is done.

Accessories have been worn by people back long as there are records of historic dress—people have used accessories. They have adorned their heads, hung ornaments around the neck and have carried various kinds of articles. Today people do not want to be burdened so accessories must be simple but well chosen and should do something for the costume.

Almost every woman has said at sometime, "I have nothing to wear." What she usually means is that she has a whole closet full of clothes and no arrangement of them adds up to a complete appropriate outfit.

Basic Wardrobe
A basic wardrobe is important when planning accessories and consists of a basic suit, dress, coat and accessories. Except for clothes for the house and sportswear, these are all the clothes a woman would need to be perfectly dressed for any occasion.

Mrs. Eisenhower Sports New Hair Style, Figure

Washington—Mrs. Eisenhower has changed her hairdo but not enough to upset one of Washington's most famous sights. Her bangs are still there. The first lady obviously was proud yesterday of her light brown hairdo with its new figure and my new hair-pageboy effect in the rear.

She also was proud of her trim figure. As she showed up for a ceremony on the White House lawn opening the American Cancer society's educational and fund-raising crusade, photographers crowded in for a picture. Mrs. Eisenhower asked: "Are you trying to show my new figure and my new hair-pageboy effect in the rear?"

Both were the result of a 2-week stay at Maine Chance, a health and beauty resort in Arizona. She returned from there last week. Besides her hairdo and figure, Mrs. Eisenhower also showed off something else that was new, a St. Patrick's day dress. It was of dark green silk and light green print with a flared skirt pinched at the waist.

Delicate Hues Add Spring to Dusters

The pink-white of the hyacinth, the yellow brilliance of the jonquil, the lavender of the crocus, all of the delicate hues of spring flowers are blooming on the new spring robes and dusters.

Miracle fibers have been uncovered that seemingly are light as thistle-down, soft and delicate as spun sugar and will withstand countless launderings.

These fibers have been meticulously tailored into cuddly robes of varying lengths and hues. New fabric developments have made peignoirs of delicate fabrics become tissue weight and more opaque.

Terry Cloth

The perennial favorite for its easy care, warmth and comfiness, the terry cloth robe, again is in abundant stock with a few new touches. Flower nosegays are sprinkled over white backgrounds, monograms are added to pockets or collars. Designers have dipped the traditional white robe into countless dye vats, coming up with some of the season's sauciest colors.

Kimono sleeves, a new fashion trend, being shown on high style daytime and afternoon frocks, are featured on many of the robes and dusters, especially those with an Oriental flavor. One pink silk style is nipped at the waist with a cherry red obi sash.

One manufacturer describes a striped cotton robe as "all flattery and no fuss." The duster, with a zipper front, is available in small, medium and large sizes and in gold, coral or turquoise prints.

For those with frilly, femi-

Farmer Hospitalized After Being Pinned Under Falling Tree

Black Creek — Albert Riehl, 60, route 2, Black Creek, is being treated at Appleton Memorial hospital for severe head and face lacerations, fractured ribs and possible back injuries suffered when he was pinned beneath a tree.

Riehl was felling a tree on his farm. He sawed through the trunk but the tree failed to fall and he was investigating when it toppled over, pinning him.

He struggled free after 20 minutes and drove his tractor three-quarters of a mile back to his home. He was taken to the hospital in Larry's ambulance.

The accident occurred Saturday afternoon.

School Gyms Weren't Built With Tournaments in Mind

Planning Appleton public school gymnasiums was "not necessarily based on state tournament activities," Supt. John P. Mann said at Monday's board of education meeting. He was answering a letter from Mrs. Dorothy Stillings, Seventh ward alderman, in which she asked why badminton and volley ball courts were smaller than regulation size.

Mrs. Stillings said constituents and friends had asked

"Who is responsible for this layout which prevents any adult program or any tournament program?"

Board members agreed they were responsible. Mann said that one reason for the smaller courts in Madison Junior High school was so there would be sufficient space—three feet instead of two—between the court boundaries and the gymnasium wall.

For tournament play, he said, a regulation court could be marked off by tape. Board members Franklin L. Nehs and Mrs. Myrl N. Davis felt people should go directly to the board with their questions, not through city council members.

Eight suggested gifts to Appleton High school from the senior class received board of education approval Monday night. The class will vote to present one or more of the items to the school.

The list includes an American Field service scholarship, a sky cyclorama for the auditorium stage, book sets for the library, rugs and pads for the Early American room, a movie machine for the athletic department, a student lending record library, hi-fi for student listening and a 50-star flag.

Schmidt Named Buildings Head

Kenneth Schmidt has been appointed by the board of education as superintendent of buildings and grounds, to replace Paul Thiede, who died last Tuesday.

Schmidt has worked for the school system for more than five years and has been head building and grounds superintendent since Thiede's death.

The salary question was referred to the board's business affairs committee.

Election Board Workers to Have School Tonight

Words for Lent Captive Yet Free Mind

BY CHARLES M. CROWE

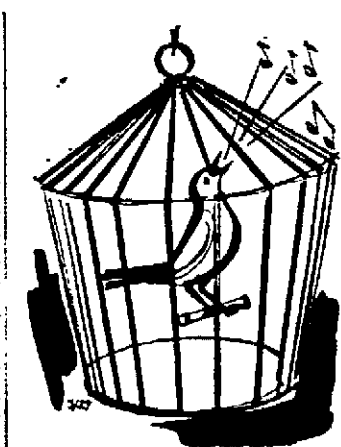

"... And bringing into captivity every thought to the obedience of Christ."

— Corinthians 10:5

Jane Austen lived out her life in a little Hampshire parsonage. Alexander Woolcott described her as a thin, upright person, about as outstanding as a piece of wood by the fireplace. And then he added: "But what thoughts she had!" Her thoughts, as someone said, "determined what Jane Austen would be. They drove off the enemies of dullness and desire that haunted the provincial life where she chanced geographically to live."

There is no state so sad but that our thoughts may cope with it. Frail people become giants by thinking great thoughts. The most ordinary surroundings may be glorified and overcome by what goes on in our minds. No one needs to be dispirited and unhappy so long as he has power to think. For our thoughts can extend our horizons and can gladden even the most shadowed ways.

This is why it is important that our thoughts are held captive by the spirit of Christ. Otherwise they are likely to get out of hand. No one can get rid of his mental blocks and depressions unless he is willing to seek and find divine help. If life crowds in upon us we can find our way out by thinking God's thoughts and seeking to have the mind of Christ. For we do have our thoughts. No one can control them but ourselves. And when we bring them into obedience to the highest we find life being transformed.

READ: 11 Corinthians 10:1-6

PRAYER: Possess our thoughts. O God, and through them give to our small lives the dimensions of eternity. In Christ's name. Amen.
